| Over the last decade there has been several public inquiries, across the UK, highlighting the shameful neglect and maltreatment of health and social care users. In addition to the findings from these inquiries, there is a growing body of evidence indicating that there has been decline in care generally and compassionate care specifically. This may, in part, be explained as being a consequence of the increasing demands on health and social care services due to higher levels of activity, higher throughput, shorter hospital stays, an ageing staff and population and staff shortages in some services. |                               |                                        |           |
| In 2016 the Scottish Government published the Health and Social Care Delivery Plan outlining changes in health and social care services in Scotland to meet future challenges and demands. Promising a service where health and social care users are at the centre of decisions that affect them.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                               |                                        |           |
| Building on this positive note, this module seeks to enable health and social care professionals from different professional backgrounds and settings to: develop the ability to understand compassionate practice; have the knowledge and confidence to respond to and challenge poor practice; and be an agent for change at an individual, team and organisational level.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                               |                                        |           |

Assessment (also refer to Assessment Outcomes Grids below)

Assessment 1

Assessment will be based on one written piece of work (4,500 words, 100%), that will address all four learning outcomes.

The written piece of work will be a systematic critique of contemporary literature in the delivery of compassionate care. The critique will require the student to review factors that impact on or influence the delivery of compassionate care; and analyse tools, techniques and strategies used to promote effective delivery of compassionate care.

Assessment 3

(N.B. (i) Assessment Outcomes Grids for the module (one for each component) can be found below which clearly demonstrate how the learning outcomes of the module will be assessed.

(ii) An indicative schedule listing approximate times within the academic calendar when assessment is likely to feature will be provided within the Student Module Handbook.)
