Summary of Module

This module explores the contemporary challenges in Logistics and Supply Chain Management. It covers the complexities and trends that organizations and managers face in the global logistics and supply chain landscape. The module covers challenges arising from globalization, sustainable development, supply chain resilience, the influence of cultures, and the responsibilities of being a good corporate citizen in the supply chain context. The module examines how global logistics trends influence managers and organizations, as well as the function of technology in modern logistics practices.

The module is flexible in its content and subject areas, adapting as new trends and challenges in logistics and supply chain management emerge; this ensures the module remains current due to the flexibility of the module delivery.

[1] Where contact hours are synchronous/ live and take place fully on campus. Campus-based learning is focused on providing an interactive learning experience supported by a range of digitally-enabled asynchronous learning opportunities including learning materials, resources, and opportunities provided via the virtual learning environment. On-campus contact hours will be clearly articulated to students.

[2] The module includes a combination of synchronous/ live on-campus and online learning events. These will be supported by a range of digitally-enabled asynchronous learning opportunities including learning materials, resources, and opportunities provided via the virtual learning environment. On-campus and online contact hours will be clearly articulated to students.

[3] Where all learning is solely delivered by web-based or internet-based technologies and the participants can engage in all learning activities through these means. All required contact hours will be clearly articulated to students.

[4] Learning activities where the main location for the learning experience is in the workplace. All required contact hours, whether online or on campus, will be clearly articulated to students

Learning and Teaching

In line with current learning and teaching principles, a 20-credit module includes 200 learning hours, normally including a minimum of 36 contact hours and maximum of 48 contact hours.

The delivery strategy will focus on a student-centric and directed learning approach. This methodology will provide the foundation on which the students learning will be built through the face-to-face workshops. The workshops will have no more than 40 students. Prior to attending these workshops sessions, students will engage in preparatory work, setting the stage for in-depth exploration and contextualization within various scenarios. The workshops will be enquiry based with structure and unstructured activities. The students will be expected to take responsibility for their direction of learning.

Learning Activities During completion of this module, the learning activities undertaken to achieve the module learning outcomes are stated below:	Student Learning Hours (Note: Learning hours include both contact hours and hours spent on other learning activities)
Laboratory / Practical Demonstration / Workshop	36
Independent Study	164

Attendance and Engagement Requirements
In line with the Student Attendance and Engagement Procedure, Students are academically engaged if they are regularly attending and participating in timetabled on-campus and online teaching sessions, asynchronous online learning activities, course-related learning resources, and complete assessments and submit these on time. For the purposes of this module, academic engagement equates to the following: Student must attend and actively participate in every scheduled Face-to face and online sessions. Students must undertake directed reading and preparation before coming to each workshop sessions including any asynchronous activities.

Equality and Diversity
The University's Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Procedure can be accessed at the following link: UWS Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Code. At the University of the West of Scotland (UWS), our commitment to equality, diversity is integral to fostering an inclusive and supportive environment for all students. Our policy underpins every aspect of student engagement, ensuring UWS to be a fair and equitable place of learning. We strive to address and champion all dimensions of equality and diversity thus creating an institution that values and respects the unique contributions of each individual. To meet the diverse needs of our student body, we are dedicated to adapting learning experiences and module assessments where required. This personalised approach ensures that all students can succeed, regardless of their background or circumstances. By embracing and promoting these principles, we aim to cultivate a learning community where everyone feels valued, supported, and empowered to achieve their full potential.
(N.B. Every effort will be made by the University to accommodate any equality and diversity issues brought to the attention of the School)
