Summary of Module

This module is the first of two Commercial Law modules forming the basis of the Scots Law LLB Foundation Programme.

This module is split into three broad parts, covering the following indicative content:

- (i) Commercial relationships of agency
- a. Introduction to background and basic concepts of agency, including: principals and agents; categories of agency (general/special); capacity; appointment (express/implied); and special cases (negotiorum gestio and mercantile agents)
- b. The creation of an agency contract; the forms of authority (express, implied, apparent); and liability for going beyond authority
- c. Duties on principals and agents, including: acting in good faith and fiduciary character; the exercise of reasonable care and skill; delegation; conflicts of interest; account-keeping; and remuneration
- d. Issues relating to principals/agents and third parties (including contracts and liability); termination of agency (including completion of transaction, mutual agreement, death, insanity, bankruptcy, etc.); and indemnity
- (ii) Commercial relationships of partnership
- a. Introduction to background and basic concepts of partnership, including: brief historical development; the General, Limited, and Limited Liability Partnership; key differences between LLPs and companies and their benefits/disadvantages; registration, membership and dissolution of LLPs; and an overview of what is required in an LLP agreement (e.g., management, voting procedures, membership changes, profit distribution, etc.)
- b. Detailed discussion of partnerships, including: restrictions on who can be a partner; names and legal personality of firms; partnership property; partnership agreements and internal management procedures; partnership and agency; unauthorised transactions, liability of the firm, and rights, duties and liabilities of partners; termination/dissolution of a partnership; and pros and cons of a partnership
- (iii) Commercial transactions of sale and supply of goods and insurance
- a. Contracts of sale to businesses, including: implied terms; transfer of property/risk; breaches and remedies; and key legislation Contracts of sale to consumers, including: key legislation, consumer contracts regulations, etc.; as well as consumer credit/finance (including hire purchase, loans/credit cards, mortgages, etc, and the associated regulatory bodies and frameworks relating to obligations/protections for consumers, and the obligations, rights and liability of creditors).

- b. Securities including lien, pledge, hypothec, floating charges, and cautionary obligations
- c. Insurance law, covering key legislation, and concepts including: types of insurance contracts and insurable interest; creation/renewal, premiums; duration, cancellation and void/voidable insurance contracts; good faith, fair presentation, and transparency; warranties and other terms; contracting-out; denial of claims; and damages for late payment.

Across the course the above material will be placed in historical and present context and there will be extended consideration of relevant statute and case law.

The module will adopt a blended means of delivery whereby students will be expected to attend lectures and participate in in-person workshops supplemented by a range of online teaching materials. Lectures (1 hour) and workshops (2 hours) will be delivered weekly covering all of the topics. Students are expected to prepare for the workshops through attendance at the relevant lecture and engagement with the online teaching materials. In the workshops students will engage in active learning through a range of problem-solving activities and engage in critical debate on the topics being explored.
