Summary of Module

This module integrates the latest digital marketing techniques with fundamental marketing concepts, focusing on the unique digital marketing needs of both B2B and B2C enterprises. Building on the knowledge acquired in Digital Marketing Practice, it lays a solid practical foundation by delving into cutting-edge digital marketing strategies, theories, and models from both academic circles and the industry forefront. Essential for digital marketing professionals, staying abreast of current industry trends and breakthroughs is crucial, ensuring they can swiftly and effectively enhance an organization's online footprint. This includes a deep dive into established digital marketing realms such as Search Engine Marketing, analysing Online Consumer Interaction Data, Social Media Management, adhering to Consumer Data Ethics, and executing effective Content Marketing, among others. Additionally, the curriculum now includes emerging topics like marketing in the Metaverse/3D web, leveraging cryptocurrency and digital assets (NFTs) for monetization, and employing AI to augment digital strategy formulation and campaign management.

Upon completing this course, students will be proficient in critical digital marketing theories and management practices, including social media strategy, pioneering online product/service development, digital innovation techniques, digital account stewardship, inbound marketing tactics, and deriving insights from online customer behaviour. They will also excel in utilizing Big Data analytics and contemporary online marketing research methodologies. The course will equip students with skills in online data collection methods, enriching their existing academic research toolkit.

The course curriculum is designed to make students well-versed in theoretical underpinnings and advanced digital strategies, preparing them to excel as adept professionals in the global digital marketing arena. Teaching methods will incorporate various elements of digital infrastructures and processes, such as web development, social media utilization, analytical and data mining tools, social customer relationship management, and leveraging both online and offline marketing channels to disseminate course content.

The learning experience is designed to be flexible and student-centred, with the goal of providing an engaging learning experience. As part of the module evaluations, students will be able to create an online portfolio of competencies that will help them improve their practical abilities. Students will also be encouraged to develop critical thinking abilities and to create work that meets both academic and current industry standards.

Learning and Teaching

In line with current learning and teaching principles, a 20-credit module includes 200 learning hours, normally including a minimum of 36 contact hours and maximum of 48 contact hours.

Teaching methods will incorporate many aspects of the digital world in the teaching practice, and the programme will utilise both online and offline marketing tools to deliver module material. The learning experience is intended to be flexible and student-centred, aiming to deliver an interactive learning experience that will be of benefit both the lecturer and the student. The structure of the delivery of this module will incorporate the one-hour lecture with a following hour of guest speakers, student presentations and in-class debates. To support our students' practical skills development, the module will introduce one hour lab/workshops. During these workshops students will develop the capacity to create content and learn to promote it through social media channels.

Attendance and Engagement Requirements

In line with the Student Attendance and Engagement Procedure, Students are academically engaged if they are regularly attending and participating in timetabled oncampus and online teaching sessions, asynchronous online learning activities, course-related learning resources, and complete assessments and submit these on time.

For the purposes of this module, academic engagement equates to the following:

Students should reference the 'BCI Guidance on Implementation of the Revised Student Attendance and Engagement Procedure' which details the School attendance and engagement requirements and how this will be monitored for attendance.

Equality and Diversity

The University's Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Procedure can be accessed at the following link: UWS Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Code.

To meet the diverse needs of our student body, we are dedicated to adapting learning experiences where required. This personalised approach ensures that all students can succeed, regardless of their background or circumstances. By embracing and promoting these principles, we aim to cultivate a learning community where everyone feels valued, supported, and empowered to achieve their full potential.

(N.B. Every effort will be made by the University to accommodate any equality and diversity issues brought to the attention of the School)
