Summary of Module

The module is aimed at developing a fundamental understanding and appreciation for the development, implementation and utilisation of Human Resource Information Systems (HRIS). The module, therefore, provides a discussion around theoretical concepts focused on evidence-based and strategic design, implementation and administration of HR Information Systems in organisations.

Additionally, in order to support students in the development of knowledge and understanding of the use of quantifiable data within the context of HRM, the module explores key areas around HR analytics to gain insights into various HR areas, such as employee productivity, turnover, recruitment, and employee engagement.

The module also explores the use of artificial intelligence (AI) within various HR approaches, systems and analytics. This includes a fundamental discussion around the application of various AI tools, specifically in. context of people management.

Achieving the development of knowledge, understanding and appreciation is nurtured by the module assessment strategy, placing a strong emphasis on employability-/practice-focused skills.

Learning and Teaching

In line with current learning and teaching principles, a 20-credit module includes 200 learning hours, normally including a minimum of 36 contact hours and maximum of 48 contact hours.

In line with UWS' Curriculum Framework, providing a flexible, student-centred and inclusive approach to learning and teaching, the module has been designed around the delivery of engaging, activity- and discussion-based workshops, nurtured by meaningful online content, including short videos, reading materials, quizzes, etc.

This is further supported by the assessment approach adopted, enabling students to develop both academic and employability-focused knowledge and skills within the key areas of the module content.

The contact hours shown below reflect full-time delivery — these may differ for students studying towards the BA(Hons) People Management due to the blended/work-based learning nature of the programme — please refer to the Teaching & Assessment section on the UWS website (https://www.uws.ac.uk/study/undergraduate/undergraduate-course-search/people-management) for more information.

Indicative Resources

The following materials form essential underpinning for the module content and ultimately for the learning outcomes:

Diez, F., Bussin, M. and Lee, V. (2019), "Fundamentals of HR Analytics: A Manual on Becoming HR Analytical", Emerald Publishing Limited, Bingley

Eubanks, B., (2022), Artificial Intelligence for HR: Use AI to Support and Develop a Successful Workforce", 2nd Ed., KoganPage — CIPD, London

Johnson, R.D.; Carlson, K.D. and Kavanagh, M.J. (Eds.), (2020), Human Resource Information Systems: Basics, Applications, and Future Directions", 5th Edition, SAGE Publications, Inc.

Details of further resources, including textbooks, journals and online resources will be identified at the beginning of each delivery in the module handbook and made available via the VLE.

(N.B. Although reading lists should include current publications, students are advised (particularly for material marked with an asterisk*) to wait until the start of session for confirmation of the most up-to-date material)

Attendance and Engagement Requirements

In line with the Student Attendance and Engagement Procedure, Students are academically engaged if they are regularly attending and participating in timetabled oncampus and online teaching sessions, asynchronous online learning activities, course-related learning resources, and complete assessments and submit these on time.

For the purposes of this module, academic engagement equates to the following:

Students are academically engaged if they are regularly attending the on-campus lectures/tutorials/workshop. Also, they need to engage with the AULA site regularly to access to the teaching materials and complete assessments and submit these on time.

Students should also reference the 'BCI Guidance on Implementation of the Revised Student Attendance and Engagement Procedure' which details the School attendance and engagement requirements and how this will be monitored for attendance

Equality and Diversity

The University's Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Procedure can be accessed at the following link: UWS Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Code.

To meet the diverse needs of our student body, we are dedicated to adapting learning experiences where required. This personalised one-to-one approach ensures that all students can succeed, regardless of their background or circumstances. By embracing and promoting these principles, we aim to cultivate a learning community where everyone feels valued, supported, and empowered to achieve their full potential.

(N.B. Every effort will be made by the University to accommodate any equality and diversity issues brought to the attention of the School)

Assessment (also refer to Assessment Outcomes Grids below)

Assessment 1

Assessment 1: groups of students design and deliver an HRIS facilitation session, worth 40% of the overall module assessment.

Assessment 2

Assessment 2: each student sits a scheduled, on-campus in-tray assessment, worth 60%, critically evaluating and applying analytics in an HRM context.

Assessment 3

- (N.B. (i) Assessment Outcomes Grids for the module (one for each component) can be found below which clearly demonstrate how the learning outcomes of the module will be assessed.
- (ii) An indicative schedule listing approximate times within the academic calendar when assessment is likely to feature will be provided within the Student Module Handbook.)
