Summary of Module

This module will introduce students to key sectors and revenue streams within the Music Industries, framed against current critical and scholarly perspectives from the field of popular music studies. Over the course ofthis module, students will be introduced to a variety of sectors from the music industries, including (but notlimited to) record companies, music publishing companies, royalty collection societies, events management companies, artist management, agencies, promoters, PR, songwriters and digital distributors.

Students will be encouraged to explore these sectors, and the music industries more broadly, from a range of social, cultural, economic, technological, and political perspectives. This will involve:

- Understanding the key concepts of intellectual property protection, management of income streams and key beneficiaries through lectures, directed study, reading and research
- Understanding the social and cultural factors which impact upon music's sociocultural value
- Understanding and challenging business models in legal, financial, and cultural terms within the creative industries
- To introduce students to the structure of the contemporary music industries
- To introduce students to key issues facing the contemporary music industries
- To support students in developing an understanding of the social and cultural factors which impact upon music's social and cultural value
- To support students in developing the necessary knowledge and skills to research and analyse the music industries
