Summary of Module
This module is essentially an introduction to the field of equality and diversity. The module’s main aim is to provide students with a fundamental understanding and awareness of Equality, Diversity and Inclusion (EDI) within the context of the United Kingdom. The module will explore key concepts and debates surrounding EDI and analyse the current state of the equality and diversity landscape within the UK, especially within a labour market, workplace and organisational context. There will also be an exploration of the rationale behind the promotion of EDI and the use of equality legislation by successive governments to manage diversity and reduce inequalities. To reflect the module’s connection to the field of human resources, the module content will primarily aim to focus on the workplace and employment aspects of EDI, including organisational policies and practices to manage diversity.

¹ Where contact hours are synchronous/ live and take place fully on campus. Campus-based learning is focused on providing an interactive learning experience supported by a range of digitally-enabled asynchronous learning opportunities including learning materials, resources, and opportunities provided via the virtual learning environment. On-campus contact hours will be clearly articulated to students.

² The module includes a combination of synchronous/ live on-campus and online learning events. These will be supported by a range of digitally-enabled asynchronous learning opportunities including learning materials, resources, and opportunities provided via the virtual learning environment. On-campus and online contact hours will be clearly articulated to students.

³ Where all learning is solely delivered by web-based or internet-based technologies and the participants can engage in all learning activities through these means. All required contact hours will be clearly articulated to students.

⁴ Learning activities where the main location for the learning experience is in the workplace. All required contact hours, whether online or on campus, will be clearly articulated to students

Indicative Resources
The following materials form essential underpinning for the module content and ultimately for the learning outcomes: Kirton, G. and Greene, A.M., (2022), “The Dynamics of Managing Diversity and Inclusion: A Critical Approach”, 5th Edition, Routledge, London. Details of further resources, including textbooks, journals and online resources will be identified at the beginning of each delivery in the module handbook and made available via Aula/myUWS.
(N.B. Although reading lists should include current publications, students are advised (particularly for material marked with an asterisk*) to wait until the start of session for confirmation of the most up-to-date material)

Attendance and Engagement Requirements

In line with the Student Attendance and Engagement Procedure, Students are academically engaged if they are regularly attending and participating in timetabled on-campus and online teaching sessions, asynchronous online learning activities, course-related learning resources, and complete assessments and submit these on time.

For the purposes of this module, academic engagement equates to the following:

Students are academically engaged if they are regularly attending the on-campus lectures/tutorials/workshop. Also, they need to engage with the AULA site regularly to access to the teaching materials and complete assessments and submit these on time.

Equality and Diversity

The University's Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Procedure can be accessed at the following link: UWS Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Code.

To meet the diverse needs of our student body, we are dedicated to adapting learning experiences where required. This personalised one-to-one approach ensures that all students can succeed, regardless of their background or circumstances. By embracing and promoting these principles, we aim to cultivate a learning community where everyone feels valued, supported, and empowered to achieve their full potential.

(N.B. Every effort will be made by the University to accommodate any equality and diversity issues brought to the attention of the School)

Assessment (also refer to Assessment Outcomes Grids below)

Assessment 1

60% of the overall marks will be accounted for by a formal test undertaken in class under exam conditions.

Given that this assessment is aimed at testing students' knowledge and understanding of the entire module content, it is reasonable to suggest that all the learning outcomes are being assessed in this assessment.

Assessment 2

40% of the overall marks will be accounted for by a group presentation.

Given that the brief for this assessment requires students to undertake a range of tasks in preparation and to demonstrate an awareness of all module topics, it is reasonable and justified that all learning outcomes are being assessed.

Assessment 3

N/A

(N.B. (i) Assessment Outcomes Grids for the module (one for each component) can be found below which clearly demonstrate how the learning outcomes of the module will be assessed.

(ii) An indicative schedule listing approximate times within the academic calendar when assessment is likely to feature will be provided within the Student Module Handbook.)
