Learning and Teaching

The focus of the teaching and learning methodology will be to deliver a blended learning experience, using a combination of group seminars and workshops, online mentoring, individual tutorials, and practical hands-on experience of shooting a professional-level fiction film project and/or completing a professional-level short fiction script.

Both core staff and guest lecturers are actively involved in the film industry in various roles, and their approach to teaching is informed by their own practice and/or research. Throughout, students are encouraged to take a problem-solving approach to the aesthetic and pragmatic decisions involved in filmmaking, and to learn from their mistakes as well as their successes, in line with the principles of inquiry-based learning.

Students are encouraged to reflect on the way in which their own experience of practical filmmaking relates to different historical traditions, and to position their work in relation to contemporary national, European and international film practice.

Group-based work will lead to the development and production of a number of short films. Production records and student statements will provide the basis for evaluating individual contributions to the film shoot, while placing a high value on teamwork and cooperation.

Extensive formative feedback will occur throughout the module, and students will receive peer, industry and tutorial review of their work regularly throughout the trimester.

The module will exploit E-Learning through the use of our VLE, Moodle, using Online channels wherever possible in order to free up contact time for creative work and collaboration.

Learning Activities  During completion of this module, the learning activities undertaken to achieve the module learning outcomes are stated below:	Student Learning Hours (Normally totalling 200 hours): (Note: Learning hours include both contact hours and hours spent on other learning activities)
Lecture/Core Content Delivery	24
Tutorial/Synchronous Support Activity	12

Laboratory/Practical Demonstration/Workshop	28
Asynchronous Class Activity	24
Independent Study	312
	Hours Total 400

**Indicative Resources: (eg. Core text, journals, internet access)

The following materials form essential underpinning for the module content and ultimately for the learning outcomes:

Batty, C. (editor) & Kerrigan, S. (editor) (2018) Screen Production Research: Creative Practice as a Mode of Enquiry: Cham, Switzerland: Palgrave Macmillan

Bordwell, D. (1997). On the History of Film Style. Cambridge MA.: Harvard University Press.

Lumet, S. (1996) Making Movies: New York: Vintage Books

Rabiger, M. & Hurbis-Cherrier, M. (2008) Directing: Film Techniques and Aesthetics. Amsterdam: Oxford: Elsevier/Focal Press. 4th ed.

Weston, J, (1996) Directing actors: creating memorable performances for film and television: Studio City, Calif.: M. Wiese Productions, 1996.

Please ensure the list is kept short and current. Essential resources should be included, broader resources should be kept for module handbooks / Aula VLE.

Resources should be listed in Right Harvard referencing style or agreed professional body deviation and in alphabetical order.

(**N.B. Although reading lists should include current publications, students are advised (particularly for material marked with an asterisk*) to wait until the start of session for confirmation of the most up-to-date material)

Attendance and Engagement Requirements

In line with the Student Attendance and Engagement Procedure: Students are academically engaged if they are regularly attending and participating in timetabled on-campus and online teaching sessions, asynchronous online learning activities, course-related learning resources, and complete assessments and submit these on time.

For the purposes of this module, academic engagement equates to the following:

Students are required to take on a role of significant responsibility in a production and there is an expectation that professional standards of conduct will be aspired to on all productions.

Equality and Diversity

The University's Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Procedure can be accessed at the following link: UWS Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Code.

Please ensure any specific requirements are detailed in this section. Module Coordinators should consider the accessibility of their module for groups with protected characteristics...

(N.B. Every effort will be made by the University to accommodate any equality and diversity issues brought to the attention of the School)

Assessment: (also refer to Assessment Outcomes Grids below)

This section should make transparent what assessment categories form part of this module (stating what % contributes to the final mark).

Maximum of 3 main assessment categories can be identified (which may comprise smaller elements of assessment).

NB: The 30% aggregate regulation (Reg. 3.9) (40% for PG) for each main category must be taken into account. When using PSMD, if all assessments are recorded in the one box, only one assessment grid will show and the 30% (40% at PG) aggregate regulation will not stand. For the aggregate regulation to stand, each component of assessment must be captured in a separate box.

Please provide brief information about the overall approach to assessment that is taken within the module. In order to be flexible with assessment delivery, be brief, but do state assessment type (e.g. written assignment rather than "essay" / presentation, etc.) and keep the detail for the module handbook. Click or tap here to enter text.

Assessment 1

Treatment for short film project and research report (20%);

Students produce a treatment for a short film project (1000-1500 words) accompanied by a 1000 word research report (2000-2500 words in total)..

Assessment 2

Completed fiction film project (65%);

Students work in groups to produce a short fiction film (5-10 minutes duration). Each student should play a clearly defined and significant role in the project. Production documentation and a personal production diary will also be submitted in order to help examiners understand the film process and the role played in it by the student. Each film will be subject to green-lighting by tutors in advance of production.

Assessment 3

Reflective Essay (15%).

Students write a reflective critical analysis of their own filmmaking work focussing primarily on the piece of work and its effectiveness in storytelling, form and originality particularly with reference to their own aims and ambitions for the piece and where the film does not meet their own ambitions or professionals standards and why. (2000 words)

- (N.B. (i) Assessment Outcomes Grids for the module (one for each component) can be found below which clearly demonstrate how the learning outcomes of the module will be assessed.
- (ii) An indicative schedule listing approximate times within the academic calendar when assessment is likely to feature will be provided within the Student Module Handbook.)
