Summary of Module

This module considers organisational performance in MNEs. Students are introduced to the performance of MNEs and the measurement and performance management systems that may be used. Students will reflect and analyse MNEs with different organisational context to achieve and maintain competitive advantage.

The module will consider the relationship between organisational mission and the manner in which it is attained. This will be done through a holistic approach to managing MNEs performance that considers the 4Es (efficiency, effectiveness, equity and efficacy). The module will enable students to reflect, reason and rationalise the internal /external influences on MNE performance, such as the manner in which MNEs are measured internally and externally.

This module is core to the MSc International Management Programme.

Indicative Resources

The following materials form essential underpinning for the module content and ultimately for the learning outcomes:

Keller, S. and Schaninger, B. 2019. Beyond Performance 2.0: a proven approach to leading large-scale change. Wiley & Sons: New Jersey.

*Details of further resources, including textbooks, journals and online resources, will be identified at the beginning of each delivery in the module handbook, and made available via Moodle.

(N.B. Although reading lists should include current publications, students are advised (particularly for material marked with an asterisk*) to wait until the start of session for confirmation of the most up-to-date material)

Attendance and Engagement Requirements

In line with the Student Attendance and Engagement Procedure, Students are academically engaged if they are regularly attending and participating in timetabled oncampus and online teaching sessions, asynchronous online learning activities, course-related learning resources, and complete assessments and submit these on time.

For the purposes of this module, academic engagement equates to the following:

The university is committed to providing a supportive learning environment that actively facilitates student success. In this module, there is a high degree of student-led flexibility. You are academically engaged if you are regularly engaged with scheduled live sessions oncampus and online, including engaging with online learning activities in your own time, course-related learning resources, and with timely completion and submission of assessments.

Whilst we understand that there may be times when conflicting priorities make participation challenging, for you to gain the most from this module it is recommended that you participate in all scheduled live classes and complete your self-directed learning activities in a timely manner.

It may be difficult to pass the assessment associated with this module if you are not regularly engaging with the module work and live classes. We may reach out to check how things are going and offer support if we observe that you have not been attending sessions or completing online activities.

Equality and Diversity

The University's Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Procedure can be accessed at the following link: UWS Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Code.

This module is appropriate for all students irrespective of ethnic status, disability, age, gender, religious and sexual orientation. The module has been designed to take account of increase in the diversity of the student body and in this respect, the approach is "learner centred". The delivery of the module is personalised, and students are supported by staff as well as the learning support team.

(N.B. Every effort will be made by the University to accommodate any equality and diversity issues brought to the attention of the School)
