Summary of Module
This module is designed to meet the requirements of Reward Management and Performance Management, modules in the CIPD Advanced Level specifications. The reward aspect examines reward in an organisational and international context and provides learners with the knowledge and understanding of environments in which reward professionals plan, implement and evaluate employee reward policies to support strategic organisational goals. The performance management aspect provides learners with the knowledge and understanding of the role of performance management in supporting the strategic objectives of the organisation in different business environments; how the performance of people can be enhanced and inspired by leadership and direction and how it contributes to high-performance work organisations. Reward and performance management are inextricably bound and thus this will be the learning focus adopted by this module. Critical reflection on theory and practice from an ethical and professional standpoint and for continuous professional development is required. The module has been designed with our HRM students in mind, where the roles HR staff, managers and others have in both measuring and managing performance and applying meaningful rewards is covered, such as line managers, consultants and HR specialists, leading to meeting the university’s ‘I am UWS’ graduate attributes: Universal: supporting students in becoming critical thinkers, who can demonstrate analytical and collaborative skills; Work-ready: developing motivated, ambitious and knowledgeable future professionals, with effective communication skills; Successful: helping our students to be autonomous, resilient and transformational individuals who have the drive to succeed in their future careers.

Learning and Teaching
In line with current learning and teaching principles, a 20-credit module includes 200 learning hours, normally including a minimum of 36 contact hours and maximum of 48 contact hours.

The learning and teaching activities of this module have been developed in line with the UWS Curriculum framework, including a range of learning and assessment techniques. The formative and summative learning and teaching activities and assessment instruments are adopted with the aim of providing learners with the opportunity to manage partnerships with fellow students in informal group activities and to develop autonomous engagement in the coursework.

The instruments of assessment are combined to provide learners with externally facing workplace relevant knowledge that is enhanced by a commitment to scholarly practice that enriches competence and resilience. Students will gain core knowledge in interactive activities and apply that knowledge in student led tutorials.

Indicative Resources

The following materials form essential underpinning for the module content and ultimately for the learning outcomes:

Perkins, S.J. and Jones, S. (2020) Employee Reward: Alternatives, Consequences and Contexts, 4th Ed. London: Kogan Page.

Details of further resources, including textbooks, journals and online resources will be identified at the beginning of each delivery in the module handbook and made available via the VLE.

(N.B. Although reading lists should include current publications, students are advised (particularly for material marked with an asterisk*) to wait until the start of session for confirmation of the most up-to-date material)

Attendance and Engagement Requirements

In line with the Student Attendance and Engagement Procedure, Students are academically engaged if they are regularly attending and participating in timetabled on-campus and online teaching sessions, asynchronous online learning activities, course-related learning resources, and complete assessments and submit these on time.

For the purposes of this module, academic engagement equates to the following:

Students are academically engaged if they are regularly attending the on-campus lectures/tutorials/workshop. Also, they need to engage with the AULA site regularly to access to the teaching materials and complete assessments and submit these on time.

Students should also reference the 'BCI Guidance on Implementation of the Revised Student Attendance and Engagement Procedure' which details the School attendance and engagement requirements and how this will be monitored for attendance

Equality and Diversity

The University's Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Procedure can be accessed at the following link: UWS Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Code.

To meet the diverse needs of our student body, we are dedicated to adapting learning experiences where required. This personalised one-to-one approach ensures that all students can succeed, regardless of their background or circumstances. By embracing and promoting these principles, we aim to cultivate a learning community where everyone feels valued, supported, and empowered to achieve their full potential.

(N.B. Every effort will be made by the University to accommodate any equality and diversity issues brought to the attention of the School)
