Summary of Module

This module will introduce students to develop holistic thinking skills with systems thinking at its core applied to risk management. It will be of particular interest to students who appreciate adopting multiple perspectives in managing risk in a complex system, particularly human activity systems such as organizations.

The participants will learn how to apply to theories, tools, and techniques of systems thinking, to complex organizational systems.

Applying a systems approach enables analysing risks from multiple perspectives and gaining insights into complex relationships aiming to develop organizational resilience.

This module will be of key interest to anyone in a leadership position and essential to anyone directly involved in managing strategic and operational risk.

&lt;sup>1</sup> Where contact hours are synchronous/ live and take place fully on campus. Campus-based learning is focused on providing an interactive learning experience supported by a range of digitally-enabled asynchronous learning opportunities including learning materials, resources, and opportunities provided via the virtual learning environment. On-campus contact hours will be clearly articulated to students.

&lt;sup>2</sup> The module includes a combination of synchronous/ live on-campus and online learning events. These will be supported by a range of digitally-enabled asynchronous learning opportunities including learning materials, resources, and opportunities provided via the virtual learning environment. On-campus and online contact hours will be clearly articulated to students.

Indicative Resources

The following materials form essential underpinning for the module content and ultimately for the learning outcomes:

ystems Thinking for Business and Management: Principles and Practice. Unit Bititici and Agnessa Spanellis. KoganPage.

Systems Approaches to Managing Change: a practical guide. Reynolds, M. and Holwell, S., eds (2020 2nd edition)

Fundamentals of Risk Management: Understanding, Evaluating and Implementing Effective Enterprise Risk Management. Thompson, C. and Hopkin, P. 6th Ed (2021)

(N.B. Although reading lists should include current publications, students are advised (particularly for material marked with an asterisk*) to wait until the start of session for confirmation of the most up-to-date material)

Attendance and Engagement Requirements

In line with the Student Attendance and Engagement Procedure, Students are academically engaged if they are regularly attending and participating in timetabled oncampus and online teaching sessions, asynchronous online learning activities, course-related learning resources, and complete assessments and submit these on time.

For the purposes of this module, academic engagement equates to the following:

The delivery strategy will focus on online information dissemination and adopting a student-centric and directed learning approach. This methodology will provide the foundation on which the students learning will be built through the face-to-face workshops. The workshops will have no more than 40 students. Prior to attending these workshops sessions, students will engage in preparatory work, setting the stage for in-depth exploration and contextualization within various scenarios. The workshops will be enquiry based with structure and unstructured activities. The students will be expected to take responsibility for their direction of learning
