Summary of Module

This flexible, online module enables you to engage with the process of planning an evidence-based enhancement to your practice. The value of evidence-based enhancement will be explored and set in the context of professional development, quality processes, and Scholarship of Teaching and Learning (SOTL).

You will be supported to evaluate your current practice and plan a change.

You are expected to have an on-going teaching commitment throughout the module in order to support its practice-based elements and assessment.

NB Modules have been validated to run in all terms but will usually run only once per session. Please contact the module co-ordinator for more information.

¹ Where contact hours are synchronous/ live and take place fully on campus. Campus-based learning is focused on providing an interactive learning experience supported by a range of digitally-enabled asynchronous learning opportunities including learning materials, resources, and opportunities provided via the virtual learning environment. On-campus contact hours will be clearly articulated to students.

² The module includes a combination of synchronous/ live on-campus and online learning events. These will be supported by a range of digitally-enabled asynchronous learning opportunities including learning materials, resources, and opportunities provided via the virtual learning environment. On-campus and online contact hours will be clearly articulated to students.

³ Where all learning is solely delivered by web-based or internet-based technologies and the participants can engage in all learning activities through these means. All required contact hours will be clearly articulated to students.

⁴ Learning activities where the main location for the learning experience is in the workplace. All required contact hours, whether online or on campus, will be clearly articulated to students

Learning and Teaching

In line with current learning and teaching principles, a 20-credit module includes 200 learning hours, normally including a minimum of 36 contact hours and maximum of 48 contact hours.

The learning on this module is online and practice-based. It aims to balance flexibility with the benefits of peer learning. Online discussion spaces and opportunities to collaborate are built into the module. While activities are mostly asynchronous, they are paced throughout the module to support your progress and maximise the opportunities for you to connect with your peers.

Online synchronous sessions will be offered to support learning on the module.

The materials and activities in the online learning space are intended to help you develop your practice in learning and teaching. You will also be asked to connect your practice to the theories, ideas and principles from the module.

Attendance and Engagement Requirements

In line with the Student Attendance and Engagement Procedure, Students are academically engaged if they are regularly attending and participating in timetabled oncampus and online teaching sessions, asynchronous online learning activities, course-related learning resources, and complete assessments and submit these on time.

For the purposes of this module, academic engagement equates to the following:

satisfactory engagement with active learning hours, assessment, and the mentoring process.

Equality and Diversity
The University's Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Procedure can be accessed at the following link: UWS Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Code. (N.B. Every effort will be made by the University to accommodate any equality and diversity issues brought to the attention of the School)
