Learning and Teaching

In line with current learning and teaching principles, a 20-credit module includes 200 learning hours, normally including a minimum of 36 contact hours and maximum of 48 contact hours.

This module is a practical language class which remains firmly communicative. Students will be strongly encouraged to be active participants in class and will have plenty of opportunities to work either in pairs and/or groups to practise their oral/aural and written skills. There will be appropriate emphasis on basic grammar in order to reach a level roughly equivalent to the A1 level of the Common European Framework. Normally French will be the working language, apart from some grammar explanations and some of the more challenging cultural input where English will be used to clarify the context. Independent learning is also an integral part of this course and students will be given suggestions for written and oral tasks to be completed outside class, and which will be collected to form a portfolio of independent work.

In this module the use of the AULA Virtual Learning Environment will be integral to the student learning experience, enhancing the use of external links for independent study.

Learning Activities During completion of this module, the learning activities undertaken to achieve the module learning outcomes are stated below:	Student Learning Hours (Normally totalling 200 hours): (Note: Learning hours include both contact hours and hours spent on other learning activities)
Lecture/Core Content Delivery	36
Asynchronous Class Activity	44
Independent Study	116
