Summary of Module

This is a course for students who have normally studied French 1.1 or equivalent.

By working through French 1.2, students should reach a level roughly equivalent to A2 of the Common European Framework Reference (CEFR); the mode of delivery will normally be 2 hours a week for 24 weeks (Long Thin Module) or alternatively 3 hours a week for 12 weeks (Full Fat Module).

The aim of this module is to immerse students in French and get them to consolidate and build upon what was covered in French 1.1. In this module students will revise some of the French grammar points covered in French 1.1 and be introduced to other basic components of French grammar: Present tense of pronominal verbs, immediate future tense, imperfect and perfect tenses.

Typical topics for comprehension and language use might include: basic personal & family information; describing people and /or a place; describing present and past leisure activities, educational background; most recent part-time job; immediate projects; Students will be required to read and write simple notes and messages relating to matters in areas of immediate needs or a very simple personal letter.

Students will be able to understand sentences and frequently used expressions related to areas of most immediate relevance on prescribed topics.

Learning and Teaching

In line with current learning and teaching principles, a 20-credit module includes 200 learning hours, normally including a minimum of 36 contact hours and maximum of 48 contact hours.

This module is a practical language class which remains firmly communicative. Students will be strongly encouraged to be active participants in class and will have plenty of opportunities to work either in pairs and/or groups to practise their oral/aural and written skills. There will be appropriate emphasis on basic grammar in order to reach a level roughly equivalent to the A2 level of the Common European Framework. Normally Frenchwill be the working language, apart from some grammar explanations and some of the more challenging cultural input where English will be used to clarify the context. Independent learning is also an integral part of this course and students will be given suggestions for written and oral tasks to be completed outside class, and which will be collected to form a portfolio of independent work.

In this module the use of the AULA Virtual Learning Environment will be integral to the student learning experience, enhancing the use of external links for independent study.

| Learning Activities During completion of this module, the learning activities undertaken to achieve the module learning outcomes are stated below: | Student Learning Hours (Normally totalling 200 hours): (Note: Learning hours include both contact hours and hours spent on other learning activities) |
