Summary of Module

This module is aimed at total beginners of Spanish. No prior knowledge is required. Students will be introduced to many of the fundamentals of Spanish: for example articles, demonstratives, pronouns, possessives and the present tense. As this is an intensive module, there will be a systematic approach to explanations of sentence structures in communicative scenarios and to vocabulary development.

Classes will be a mixture of lecture and seminar. In the lecture session of the class the main grammar points will be introduced. In the seminar section the grammar will be practised through grammatical exercises; syntactic and morphological analyses to make students aware of the workings of the language; presentations; role plays; pair-work exercises; and other interactive activities.

The topical content of these activities will include: greeting, asking and giving personal information, numbers, daily routines and leisure activities, telling time and dates, ordering food and drink in restaurants, asking for and giving directions, describing places, booking in a hotel. The students will also be introduced to basic cultural conventions of Spain and other Spanish-speaking countries as well as to some key geographical and socio-political features (i.e. linguistic and cultural varieties or regional structure).

This module will be delivered over 12 weeks, 3 hours a week; or over 24 weeks, 2 hours a week.

Learning and Teaching

This module is a practical language class which offers the opportunity to students to develop their formal knowledge of the Spanish language and of prescribed topics. Students engage in a variety of activities in class and in independent study to practice their language skills. The four skills are developed through class activities: listening to audio/video recordings; working in pairs or in small groups to work on speaking skills, engaging in a variety of reading exercises to develop skills in Spanish. Grammatical work is consolidated through related speaking tasks and homework exercises. The module is supported by the use of Virtual Learning environments, which are integral to the student learning experience, enhancing the use of external links for guided and independent study.
