Summary of Module

Work Based Learning is a crucial element in formative and academic training. This module allows the student to reflect on their own learning specifically in the field of Baptist identity, Baptist history, and comparative ecclesiology and enables them to identify key areas for further development. It is a block placement normally up to 60 hours, and is undertaken within the overall guidelines and policies of the SBC relating to WBL. (See WBL Pack available to enrolled students.)

Normally, a Learning Agreement/Plan is negotiated between student, Module Co-ordinator and the in-situ placement mentor. Through discussion the student is encouraged to identify their own learning and training requirements, looking to previous learning and experience. Aims and activities of the placement are then formulated, and assessment content agreed and approved at the outset of the placement.

Through the submission of reflective journal entries, students will receive formative feedback encouraging them to develop their learning through reflection and allowing longer theologically reflective pieces of work to be developed prior to submission for summative assessment.

This module aims to provide the student with the skills in reflective practice, theology and history of Baptist churches in relation to the wider ecclesiological landscape, and a capacity to be self-reflective using practice to enhance learning and formation.
