Learning and Teaching

In line with current learning and teaching principles, a 20-credit module includes 200 learning hours, normally including a minimum of 36 contact hours and maximum of 48 contact hours.

This module is a practical language class which remains firmly communicative. Students will be strongly encouraged to be active participants in class and will engage in a variety of class activities: listening to audio and video recordings, working in small groups and taking part in group or pair discussions. This module will provide the students with the opportunity to understand the main ideas of clear standard input; to initiate, maintain close simple face-to-face conversation on prescribed topics; to deal with a good number of situations likely to arise whilst travelling in France; to use reasonably accurately a repertoire of frequently used "routines" and patterns associated with more predictable situations. The choice of topics will also develop understanding of cultural differences. Independent learning is also an integral part of this course in the form of weekly formative assignments through studying grammar points, listening to audio and video recordings, writing of short texts, reading articles and literary prose.

The use of the AULA Virtual Learning Environment will be integral to the student learning experience, enhancing the use of external links for independent study.

Learning Activities During completion of this module, the learning activities undertaken to achieve the module learning outcomes are stated below:	Student Learning Hours (Normally totalling 200 hours): (Note: Learning hours include both contact hours and hours spent on other learning activities)
Lecture/Core Content Delivery	36
