Module Descriptor

Session: 2024/25

Title of Module: Promoting Learning
Code: EDUC09006	SCQF Level: 9 (Scottish Credit and Qualifications Framework)	Credit Points: 20	ECTS: 10 (European Credit Transfer Scheme)
School:	School of Education & Social Sciences
Module Co-ordinator:	N Allan
Summary of Module
This module focuses on current influences, models and approaches to support the development of children, including those aged 6-16. Initially the module examines international and national approaches to statutory education and in particular the factors historical, economic, cultural, social and political which have shaped policies surrounding childhood practice. The module develops of knowledge and evaluation of approaches to in-school learning through examination of current curriculum documents, such as A Curriculum for Excellence, and the effect of policies on provision and practices, such as supporting effective transitions arrangements. ‘Promoting Learning’ also encourages students to develop a critical knowledge and understanding of educational models and best practice in Scotland, by comparing the Scottish approach with international case studies e.g. Scandinavian early learning and childcare; indigenous and bicultural curricula. By exploring the diversity of global educational systems, students will be encouraged to adopt a critical, anti-racist approach to their understanding of effective childhood practice. The module will examine current influences on childhood services, childcare and education, such as sustainability and citizenship within outdoor learning, and look at wider models and practices of education e.g. out of school care (OSC), playwork and community learning, linking these to global and local government priorities. The module will be delivered by blended learning, including workplace learning, critical incident analysis and group work.

Learning and Teaching

In line with current learning and teaching principles, a 20-credit module includes 200 learning hours, normally including a minimum of 36 contact hours and maximum of 48 contact hours.

Use of VLE, Interactive Whiteboards, on-line tutor/student led discussions, individual and group tasks. Lectures, tutorials, student-led seminars, group-work, role-play, presentations, workshops, and problem based learning will be used to develop student learning. Formative and summative assessments will be used including such instruments as essays, assignments, seminars, and seminar papers, presentations. Students will have the opportunity to peer assess the formative tasks and work on a number of group activities contextualising and sharing their learning.

Student handbooks, and other detailed material made available to students, will give more specific information on the particular learning and teaching methodologies, and combinations of these methodologies, to be used for timetabled student sessions. This will clarify for students both their expectations for timetabled sessions, and their expectations for the overall balance of learning and teaching methodologies to be used during the module.

Learning Activities During completion of this module, the learning activities undertaken to achieve the module learning outcomes are stated below:	Student Learning Hours (Normally totalling 200 hours): (Note: Learning hours include both contact hours and hours spent on other learning activities)
Lecture/Core Content Delivery	36
Work Based Learning/Placement	35
Independent Study	129
	200 Hours Total

Equality and Diversity

The University's Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Procedure can be accessed at the following link: UWS Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Code.

Aligned with the overall commitment to equality and diversity stated in the Programme Specifications, the module supports equality of opportunity for students from all backgrounds and with different learning needs. Using the VLE, learning materials will be presented electronically in formats that allow flexible access and manipulation of content (part-time and distant learning students should check with their programme leader for any queries). The module complies with University regulations and guidance on inclusive learning and teaching practice. Specialist assistive equipment, support provision and adjustment to assessment practice will be made in accordance with UWS policy and regulations. Our partners are fully committed to the principles and practice of inclusiveness and our modules are designed to be accessible to all. Where this module is delivered overseas, local equivalent support for students and appropriate legislation applies

(N.B. Every effort will be made by the University to accommodate any equality and diversity issues brought to the attention of the School)
