Module Descriptor

Session: 2023/24

Title of Module: Leading to Collaborate
Code: EDUC09022	SCQF Level: 9 (Scottish Credit and Qualifications Framework)	Credit Points: 20	ECTS: 10 (European Credit Transfer Scheme)
School:	School of Education and Social Sciences
Module Co-ordinator:	A Connelly
Summary of Module
This module is designed for experienced practitioners working in childcare establishments in Scotland. It will enable students to develop professional knowledge and a critical understanding of the principles, theories and concepts of local and national systems, and of policies, practices, and legal requirements relevant to a range of sectors in the children's services. Students will demonstrate a current knowledge of Scottish Government legislation, policy and practice e.g. Early Years and Early Intervention, the UNCRC, Getting It Right for Every Child and Child Protection legislation The module will focus initially on gaining an understanding of the concept of childhood in society, applying an ecological perspective to analyse the professional roles, responsibilities, attributes and approaches to working with children, families other professionals and agencies and build the capacities of individuals, families and communities. The module will analyse practice in early childhood centres, to inform the students' practice in collaborative working and in leading the provision of environments that are safe, secure, nurturing, and inclusive and which support children's progress. Drawing on practice experience students will develop skills and abilities in reviewing and evaluating their work with parents and will also develop knowledge and understanding of how to promote and lead others in working with parents and carers, families and communities. The module will also focus on how staff can be supported in aspects of working with parents including supervision, support and critical incidents. Students will demonstrate understanding of best practice of collaborative working.

Learning and Teaching
In line with current learning and teaching principles, a 20-credit module includes 200 learning hours, normally including a minimum of 36 contact hours and maximum of 48 contact hours.
Learning Activities During completion of this module, the learning activities undertaken to achieve the module learning outcomes are stated below: Research and investigation, including research in the field, collecting, presenting and analysing data. (Independent and group work), problem solving, presentations and seminars will be used to develop learning and teaching in this module. Students will undertake groupwork tasks and will receive feedback and support from peers. Student handbooks, and other detailed material made available to students, will give more specific information on the particular learning and teaching methodologies, and combinations of these methodologies, to be used for timetabled student sessions. This will clarify for students both their expectations for timetabled sessions, and their	Student Learning Hours (Normally totalling 200 hours): (Note: Learning hours include both contact hours and hours spent on other learning activities)

Please ensure the list is kept short and current. Essential resources should be included, broader resources should be kept for module handbooks / Aula VLE.

Resources should be listed in Right Harvard referencing style or agreed professional body deviation and in alphabetical order.

(N.B. Although reading lists should include current publications, students are advised (particularly for material marked with an asterisk) to wait until the start of session for confirmation of the most up-to-date material)

Attendance and Engagement Requirements

In line with the Student Attendance and Engagement Procedure: Students are academically engaged if they are regularly attending and participating in timetabled on-campus and online teaching sessions, asynchronous online learning activities, course-related learning resources, and complete assessments and submit these on time.

For the purposes of this module, academic engagement equates to the following:

Where a module has Professional, Statutory or Regulatory Body requirements these will be listed here: All fulltime students (part-time and distant learning students should check with their programme leader for any queries) are required to attend all scheduled classes and participate with all delivered elements of the module as part of their engagement with their programme of study. Consideration will be given to students who have protection under the appropriate equality law. Please refer to UWS Regulations, Chapter 1, 1.64 – 1.67, available at the following link: <http://www.uws.ac.uk/current-students/rights-and-regulations/regulatoryframework/>

Equality and Diversity

The University's Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Procedure can be accessed at the following link: UWS Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Code.

Aligned with the overall commitment to equality and diversity stated in the Programme Specifications, the module supports equality of opportunity for students from all backgrounds and with different learning needs. Using Aula, learning materials will be presented electronically in formats that allow flexible access and manipulation of content (part-time and distant learning students should check with their programme leader for any queries). The module complies with University regulations and guidance on inclusive learning and teaching practice. Specialist assistive equipment, support provision and adjustment to assessment practice will be made in accordance with UWS policy and regulations. The University's

Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Policy can be accessed at the following link:
<http://www.uws.ac.uk/equality/>

Our partners are fully committed to the principles and practice of inclusiveness and our modules are designed to be accessible to all. Where this module is delivered overseas, local equivalent support for students and appropriate legislation applies.
