Summary of Module

Communicating the Message: Practice of Preaching L9

This module will introduce participants to the history, theology, and practice of Christian preaching as a particular genre of Christian communication related to the core competencies of Christian ministry.

The primary focus will be upon preaching as a 'live event' which takes place in the context of a congregation gathered in worship. Participants will be introduced to the terms exegesis, hermeneutics, and homiletics and the way in which these activities are critically integrated in moving from Scriptural text to sermon. In this regard participants will have the opportunity to work with a number of texts including some difficult ones and will consider preaching from these them in relation to matters of: communication, content, context, clarity, creativity, and character. In relation to these headings participants will consider such issues as listening to their listeners, sermon form, illustration, use of technology, and embodied oral delivery in relation to the current cultural context and challenges to the practice of preaching.

By the end of the module students should be able to work from a text to a written and then delivered sermon according to a number of the principles and practices which are associated with good preaching as an event of communication in the current cultural context. As part of this process students will receive formative peer and tutor feedback on a sermon delivered in class.

Indicative Resources

The following materials form essential underpinning for the module content and ultimately for the learning outcomes:

Long, Thomas G., The Witness of Preaching 2nd ed. (Louisville: WJK Press, 2006).

Quicke, M. J. Q., 360 Degree Preaching: Hearing, Speaking, and Living the Word (Grand Rapids: Baker Academic; Carlisle: paternoster Press, 2003).

(N.B. Although reading lists should include current publications, students are advised (particularly for material marked with an asterisk*) to wait until the start of session for confirmation of the most up-to-date material)

Attendance and Engagement Requirements

In line with the Student Attendance and Engagement Procedure, Students are academically engaged if they are regularly attending and participating in timetabled oncampus and online teaching sessions, asynchronous online learning activities, course-related learning resources, and complete assessments and submit these on time.

For the purposes of this module, academic engagement equates to the following:

Students must attend scheduled sessions, complete learning activities and submit assessments. Detailed guidance will be provided by the module coordinator.

Equality and Diversity

The University's Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Procedure can be accessed at the following link: UWS Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Code.

As a Christian theological college, students should be aware that teaching, discussion and the college's ethos is from a confessional viewpoint. The college actively encourages an environment of openness and religious tolerance, but the main function of the college is the training of ministerial candidates and the learning environment will be supportive of this.

Where students need additional support, this is provided by the college team with reference if appropriate to other UWS colleagues, they are referred to Student Support Services for further assistance. In consultation with the student, the needs of individual students are met, wherever practicable, and every effort made to ensure individual students are not disadvantaged.

(N.B. Every effort will be made by the University to accommodate any equality and diversity issues brought to the attention of the School)
