Learning and Teaching
In line with current learning and teaching principles, a 20-credit module includes 200 learning hours, normally including a minimum of 36 contact hours and maximum of 48 contact hours. Lectures, tutorials, workshops and use of the VLE, employing a range of learning and teaching methodologies including exposition, whole-class discussion, paired and group work, problem-based learning, science experiments, student presentations, and resources such as subject-specific equipment, interactive whiteboards, laptops and the outdoors, will be used, as appropriate, to develop student learning.

Student handbooks and other material made available to students will give more detailed information on the particular learning and teaching methodologies, and combinations of these methodologies, to be used for timetabled student sessions. This will clarify for students both their expectations for timetabled sessions, and their expectations for the overall balance of learning and teaching methodologies to be used during the module.

P&P, in line with all modules on the BA Education programme, takes an authentic, best-practice and forward-looking approach to learning activities and assessment. There is a strong emphasis on situated learning and real professional scenarios. In workshops, which utilise classrooms, and other facilities as appropriate, the outdoors and the Aula VLE, main methodologies include collaborative working, problem-based learning, real-world tasks, research-based learning, enquiry-based learning, micro-teaching, student presentations, concept visualisation (eg drawing and collage), . All learning activities are aligned to relevant aspects of the professional standards. Individual, group or tutor-led reflection is required throughout. Learning activities develop 21st century skills such as communication, collaboration, digital skills, creativity and critical thinking. Learning activities, assessment and feedback, where appropriate, provide students with choice, such as student can choose the focus for their assessments and the pedagogies they wish to focus on.

With respect to students' Professional Knowledge and Understanding

Through studying this module, student teachers develop knowledge and understanding of the following.

- pedagogical and learning theories and draw on these appropriately to inform curriculum design and content where appropriate taking account of additional support needs
- curriculum content and its relevance to the education of every learner
- the need to take account of learners with additional support needs
- pastoral and legal responsibilities, for example, in relation to equality, diversity, additional support needs, child protection, and wellbeing
- biases and their impact on people and practices and challenge these

Professional Skills and Abilities are also developed within the module's teaching and assessment.

Through studying this module, student teachers develop the professional skills and abilities to ...

- plan coherent, progressive and engaging teaching programmes which address the needs of learners

- identify the potential barriers to learning and plan differentiated and appropriately challenging learning experiences to ensure learning is accessible for every learner
- employ teaching strategies and resources, including digital approaches, to meet the needs and abilities of every learner
- create opportunities for learning to be transformative in terms of challenging assumptions and expanding world views
- contribute to a rights-respecting culture where learners can meaningfully participate in decisions related to their learning, wellbeing, learning environment and their school
- evaluate the impact of the learning environment on every learner and learning and challenge assumptions, surface bias and adapt provision, as appropriate

Learning Activities During completion of this module, the learning activities undertaken to achieve the module learning outcomes are stated below:	Student Learning Hours (Normally totalling 200 hours): (Note: Learning hours include both contact hours and hours spent on other learning activities)
Laboratory/Practical Demonstration/Workshop	40
Independent Study	160
	Hours Total 200
Indicative Resources: (eg. Core text, journals, internet access)

The following materials form essential underpinning for the module content and ultimately for the learning outcomes:

Scoffham, S (2010) Primary geography (2nd ed). Sheffield: Geographical Association.

Cooper, H (ed) (2012) Teaching history creatively. London: Routledge.

Harlen, W and Qualter, A (2014) The teaching of science in primary schools (6th ed). London: Routledge.

Younie, S, Leask, M and Burden, K (ed) (2014) Teaching and learning with ICT in the primary school.

London: Routledge. (available as an ebook).

Please ensure the list is kept short and current. Essential resources should be included, broader resources should be kept for module handbooks / Aula VLE.

Resources should be listed in Right Harvard referencing style or agreed professional body deviation and in alphabetical order.

(N.B. Although reading lists should include current publications, students are advised (particularly for material marked with an asterisk) to wait until the start of session for confirmation of the most up-to-date material)

Attendance and Engagement Requirements

In line with the Student Attendance and Engagement Procedure: Students are academically engaged if they are regularly attending and participating in timetabled on-campus and online teaching sessions, asynchronous online learning activities, course-related learning resources, and complete assessments and submit these on time.

For the purposes of this module, academic engagement equates to the following:

In line with the Academic Engagement and Attendance Procedure, Students are defined as academically engaged if they are regularly engaged with timetabled teaching sessions, course-related learning resources including those in the Library and on the VLE, and complete assessments and submit these on time. Please refer to the Academic Engagement and Attendance Procedure at the following link: Academic engagement and attendance procedure

For the purposes of this module, academic engagement equates to the following: All fulltime students (part-time and distant learning students should check with their programme leader for any queries) are required to attend all scheduled classes and participate with all delivered elements of the module as part of their engagement with their programme of study. Consideration will be given to students who have protection under the appropriate equality law. Please refer to UWS Regulations, Chapter 1, 1.64 – 1.67, available at the following link: <https://www.uws.ac.uk/home/>

In accordance with module and programme handbooks, any student whose attendance has fallen below the 75% minimum requirement for a module could be withdrawn from and given a re-attend decision for that module. To assure placement partners that students are appropriately prepared to undertake periods of school experience, unsatisfactory attendance across academic modules may prevent progress to placement, or result in withdrawal from the programme, as a student would be deemed not to have met the professional requirements of the programme as accredited by the GTCS.

Equality and Diversity

The University's Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Procedure can be accessed at the following link: UWS Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Code.

Please ensure any specific requirements are detailed in this section. Module Co-ordinators should consider the accessibility of their module for groups with protected characteristics..

Aligned with the overall commitment to equality and diversity stated in the Programme Specification, this P&P module supports equality of opportunity for students from all backgrounds and with different learning needs. Using the VLE, learning materials will be presented electronically in formats that allow flexible access and manipulation of content. The module complies with University regulations and guidance on inclusive learning and teaching practice. Specialist assistive equipment, support provision and adjustment to assessment practice will be made in accordance with UWS policy and regulations.

Student teachers are encouraged to reflect on their developing understanding of aspects relating to equality and diversity and to consider how this helps them to work towards meeting the Standard for Provisional Registration (GTCS, 2021), of which demonstrating commitment to social justice and inclusion is a significant part.

While they are participating in this module BA3 students are reminded of the need to commit to social justice through fair, transparent, inclusive, and sustainable policies and practices in relation to protected characteristics, (age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion and belief, sex, sexual orientation) and intersectionality.

In addition, BA3 when engaging in this module are expected to demonstrate a commitment to motivating and including all learners, understanding the influence of gender, social, cultural, racial, ethnic, religious and economic backgrounds on experiences of learning, taking account of specific learning needs and seeking to reduce barriers to learning.

(N.B. Every effort will be made by the University to accommodate any equality and diversity issues brought to the attention of the School)

Assessment: (also refer to Assessment Outcomes Grids below)

This module is assessed by assignment. The assignment, comprising a lesson plan sequence and accompanying sequence contextualisation and justification statement should total 3000 words (+/- 10%). The sequence contextualisation and justification statement should be approximately 1000 words and should make reference to academic reading to contextualise the lesson sequence with justification of included pedagogies and practices, organisations, management strategies and resources. All resources referred in the lesson sequence should be accessible to the assessor via ePortfolio e.g. as embedded or linked photographs, video files. The assignment and supporting appendices should be uploaded to OneNote BA3 Pedagogy and Practice portfolio. Portfolios should be submitted to the BA3 Pedagogy and Practice group. Assessment of work, feedback and grading will all refer to the UWS standard marking and grading scheme, and to the relevant SCQF Level 9 descriptors. Please note that a pass in this module will require an assignment mark of no less than 40%. For more information please refer to the BA programme handbook, which is available in the BA Hons information site on Aula:

(N.B. (i) Assessment Outcomes Grids for the module (one for each component) can be found below which clearly demonstrate how the learning outcomes of the module will be assessed.

1. Demonstrate a broad knowledge of the scope, defining features and areas of the curriculum in aspects of the Sciences, Social Studies and Digital Technologies primary curriculum

2. Construct integrated, progressive learning activities linking these curriculum areas with consideration of the pedagogical issues and review the value of such learning experiences
3. Exercise autonomy and initiative in the planning process
4. Reflect critically on the theoretical and pedagogical components of the learning context
5. Make use of a suitable range of digital technologies to support and enhance the planned teaching and learning
6. Adhere to academic conventions and used an appropriate standard of written English.

(ii) An indicative schedule listing approximate times within the academic calendar when assessment is likely to feature will be provided within the Student Module Handbook.)
