Module Co-ordinator	A Bonar
Summary of Module
Registered health and social care professionals are required to use teaching and coaching skills when working with junior staff and students. This is core in providing competency in caring and effective evidence-based practice. This module explores various components, which underpin optimum clinical teaching in the practice setting such as; learning theory, methods of clinical teaching, lesson planning, assessment and evaluation. In addition the module critically explores teaching principles for use with patients and clients, along with the importance of ensuring lifelong learning and Continuing Professional Development (CPD), within healthcare professionals teaching practice. The module is designed to facilitate professionals who wish to enhance and develop their teaching and mentorship capacity in the clinical setting. As a result, this module will support students to develop characteristics, which can contribute to the UWS graduate attributes including universal critical thinking, being work ready and successful in the clinical/workplace setting.

¹ Where contact hours are synchronous/ live and take place fully on campus. Campus-based learning is focused on providing an interactive learning experience supported by a range of digitally-enabled asynchronous learning opportunities including learning materials, resources, and opportunities provided via the virtual learning environment. On-campus contact hours will be clearly articulated to students.

² The module includes a combination of synchronous/ live on-campus and online learning events. These will be supported by a range of digitally-enabled asynchronous learning opportunities including learning materials, resources, and opportunities provided via the virtual learning environment. On-campus and online contact hours will be clearly articulated to students.

³ Where all learning is solely delivered by web-based or internet-based technologies and the participants can engage in all learning activities through these means. All required contact hours will be clearly articulated to students.

⁴ Learning activities where the main location for the learning experience is in the workplace. All required contact hours, whether online or on campus, will be clearly articulated to students

Learning Outcomes
L1	Critically examine current theories and principles related to skills-based teaching and learning in the clinical context.
L2	Critically explore the challenges of the teaching/learning context from the perspectives of the clinical teacher, the client and student learner in relation to learning needs analysis and creating education programmes and resources to meet teaching/coaching/ learning requirements.
L3	Synthesise principles of clinical teaching and client-centred education in the design, implementation, monitoring and evaluating of effective education programmes and resources within the health and social care setting.
L4
L5

Employability Skills and Personal Development Planning (PDP) Skills
SCQF Headings	During completion of this module, there will be an opportunity to achieve core skills in:
Knowledge and Understanding (K and U)	SCQF 11 Demonstrating a broad and critical understanding of contemporary theories, principles and concepts in relation to skills-based teaching and learning within health care.
Practice: Applied Knowledge and Understanding	SCQF 11 Relating and applying key clinical teaching principles to one's domain of clinical practice. Demonstrating creativity in the application of theoretical concepts to enhance the practitioner's competency in skills or empower the client's capacity for self-care.
Generic Cognitive skills	SCQF 11 Developing creative and original responses to presenting problems and issues. Critically reflecting upon and appraising complex situations to make informed judgments that underpin effective skills-based teaching and learning Developing Reflective skills
Communication, ICT and Numeracy Skills	SCQF 11 Selecting and applying appropriate clinical teaching methods and resources to facilitate effective communication, teaching and learning across a range of people with different needs.

Autonomy, Accountability and Working with Others	SCQF 11 Demonstrating clinical leadership in relation to vision, engagement, empowerment and the promotion of clinical excellence and effectiveness in the health care context. Working in ways which are reflective, analytical and collaborative to enhance public involvement in developing effective clinical environments.

Learning and Teaching
In line with current learning and teaching principles, a 20-credit module includes 200 learning hours, normally including a minimum of 36 contact hours and maximum of 48 contact hours. This module is delivered by distance learning utilising a Virtual Learning Environment (VLE) as well as face-to-face delivery. Distance learning students: In this mode of delivery, students are learning fully online and are supported by the VLE. On-line students will receive core module resources; individual and group tutorial support and directed learning via the VLE system. This will be aided by asynchronous online discussion boards; virtual learning activities; tutorials (on-line or face to face via Microsoft Teams); directed wider reading including access to electronic library and e-books. Face to face delivery: In this mode of delivery students will attend classes and take part in a range of face-to-face student centred activities with the lecturer and class peers. The materials presented during the classes will be those utilised by fully online students to ensure parity of experience. Taught students have access to direct individual and tutorial support from their tutors and will be directed to wider reading, including access to electronic library and books. They will also have access to the VLE as a mechanism for communication and dissemination of information. All students will be expected to work through the on-line module materials independently. This will assist in enhancing skills of communication, presentation, problem-solving and critical reflection. Module content reflects societal diversity and a rights-based approach to practice. To promote accessibility, anticipatory adjustments have been made to teaching and learning strategies e.g. availability of electronic copies of lecture materials. Further reasonable adjustments can be made for students who have been assessed as requiring specific adjustments e.g., specialised equipment for studying e.g., specialised software.
Learning Activities	Student Learning Hours
During completion of this module, the learning activities undertaken to achieve the module learning outcomes are stated below:	(Note: Learning hours include both contact hours and hours spent on other learning activities)
Lecture / Core Content Delivery	33
Tutorial / Synchronous Support Activity	3
Personal Development Plan	6

Asynchronous Class Activity	20
Independent Study	138

Attendance and Engagement Requirements

In line with the Student Attendance and Engagement Procedure, Students are academically engaged if they are regularly attending and participating in timetabled on-campus and online teaching sessions, asynchronous online learning activities, course-related learning resources, and complete assessments and submit these on time.

For the purposes of this module, academic engagement equates to the following:

Minimum 80% of Module Timetabled Hours/Module Engagement

Equality and Diversity

The University's Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Procedure can be accessed at the following link: UWS Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Code.

Within the module, quality of care, inclusiveness and employability are achieved by:

- Provision of a welcoming and supportive culture that promotes accessibility and equal opportunities to prospective students and students.
- Promotion of confidence and knowledge of their rights as a student and employee.
- Promotion of respect and knowledge of client diversity, their needs, rights and associated practitioner responsibilities.

(N.B. Every effort will be made by the University to accommodate any equality and diversity issues brought to the attention of the School)

Assessment (also refer to Assessment Outcomes Grids below)

Assessment 1

Formative feedback on overall aim, learning outcomes and lesson plan prior to teaching session.

The students are required to design, implement, monitor and evaluate a skills based teaching session demonstrating the synthesis of the principles of clinical teaching (50% weighting).

Assessment 2

The students are required to submit a 2,500 word reflective essay (50% weighting) of the teaching session to demonstrate their critical understanding of the current theories, and challenges surrounding skills based teaching and how this impacts on educational programmes and resources within health and social care.

Assessment 3

(N.B. (i) Assessment Outcomes Grids for the module (one for each component) can be found below which clearly demonstrate how the learning outcomes of the module will be assessed.

(ii) An indicative schedule listing approximate times within the academic calendar when assessment is likely to feature will be provided within the Student Module Handbook.)
