Summary of Module

Cancer is a significant cause of morbidity and mortality in the developed world. In addition, the World Health Organisation acknowledge its increasing impact on health systems in developing nations. Palliative care was developed in relation to cancer but it is now acknowledged that its underpinning principles can benefit people living with other life-limiting illnesses. Both cancer and palliative care require a team approach to care and this module would benefit any professionals wishing to enhance their knowledge of the strategies that underpin cancer and palliative care delivery at global, national and local levels. This module will examine the contemporary issues and challenges which face professionals within these practice areas such as clinical decision-making, multi-disciplinary team working, addressing inequalities and cross-cultural issues in cancer and palliative care. The opportunity will be offered to develop critical and detailed knowledge of policy frameworks, decision making strategies and advanced practice in both acute cancer care and palliative care.

This module is one of the optional modules within the MSc Nursing course. However it may be of use to professionals who do not work within this area of practice and are interested in gaining further knowledge of the strategic developments within it.

The content of this module maps onto the enhanced/expert level of the NHS Education for Scotland Palliative and End of Life Care Framework to support the learning and development needs and Social Service Workforce.

The above skills acquisition contributes to the development of the UWS Graduate Attributes: Universal critical thinking, analytical, inquiring, culturally aware, emotionally intelligent, ethically-minded, culturally aware, collaborative, research-minded and socially responsible; Work-Ready - knowledgeable, digitally literate, effective communicator, motivated, potential leader; Successful - autonomous, incisive, creative, resilient and daring.

Attendance and Engagement Requirements

In line with the Student Attendance and Engagement Procedure, Students are academically engaged if they are regularly attending and participating in timetabled on-campus and online teaching sessions, asynchronous online learning activities, course-related learning resources, and complete assessments and submit these on time.

For the purposes of this module, academic engagement equates to the following:

In line with the Academic Engagement Procedure, Students are defined as academically engaged if they are regularly engaged with timetabled teaching sessions, course-related learning resources including those in the Library and on the relevant learning platform, and complete assessments and submit these on time. Please refer to the Academic Engagement Procedure at the following link: Academic engagement procedure

Where a module has Professional, Statutory or Regulatory Body requirements these will be listed here: Regular contributions on the discussion forums responding to questions/topics indicated in the module content.

Timely submission of formative and summative assessments as laid out in the Module Handbook and Module Timetable.

Engagement with the module materials as provided on the VLE site.

Equality and Diversity

The University's Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Procedure can be accessed at the following link: UWS Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Code.

This module is appropriate for all students. To promote inclusive practice, procedures and processes have been subject to Equality Impact Assessment where appropriate. In line with the Equality Act 2010 and UWS Refreshed Equality Outcomes 2021 - 2025 Public Sector Equality Duty Mainstreaming and Equality Outcomes Report 2021 (uws.ac.uk) (pp. 37 - 39) the School of Health and Life Sciences encourages the disclosure of support requirements, including disability, at the recruitment stage and throughout the duration of the module. Emphasis is placed on confidentiality of Information, the benefits of disclosure and that no detriment to progress will be experienced. The School will endeavour to make reasonable adjustments to teaching and learning approaches and arrangements for assessment, and (when applicable) periods of placement, where a student has disclosed specific requirements.

(N.B. Every effort will be made by the University to accommodate any equality and diversity issues brought to the attention of the School)

Assessment (also refer to Assessment Outcomes Grids below)
Assessment 1
Category 1 – PowerPoint presentation Select two countries in the world and critically analyse the differences in either a national health promotion or national screening strategy related to one type of cancer or another life limiting illness. Identify an area of practice for change in one of the chosen countries in relation to the health promotion initiative or the screening strategy and present a strategy for the implementation of this change.
Assessment 2
Category 2 – Assignment - Critique – 60%. Beating Cancer: The Cancer Action Plan Scotland (2023) and Strategic Framework for Action on Palliative and End of Life Care (Scottish Government, 2015) are examples of strategic reports covering cancer and palliative care. Using one of these or an equivalent strategic document that underpins cancer or palliative care delivery in your country/region, critically analyse how this impacts on service delivery within your own organization.
Assessment 3
(N.B. (i) Assessment Outcomes Grids for the module (one for each component) can be found below which clearly demonstrate how the learning outcomes of the module will be assessed. (ii) An indicative schedule listing approximate times within the academic calendar when assessment is likely to feature will be provided within the Student Module Handbook.)
