Summary of Module
The module will introduce students to a variety of assessment and risk management strategies to deal with problem behaviours in sexual offenders, violent offenders and personality disordered offenders. There is a further expectation that on completion of this module students will have developed the skills to identify key features of offenders and understand the complexity associated with the legal and ethical implications in practice. The module covers the development of ‘personality’, definitions and theories of personality disorder (including myths surrounding personality disorder) – developing a shared understanding and universal definition. It also looks at the prevalence of people with personality disorder and diagnosis and assessment methods are presented including people with psychopathic personality disorder. Interventions and risk assessment are introduced, including a focus on legal and ethical issues. The management of personality disorder in the community is explored, incorporating organisational and supervision requirements for those working with complex health needs. An introduction to sexual offending is offered - including prevalence, aetiology, typologies and impact. Mental disorder and sexual offending is explored. Special groups are considered, such as females, young people, internet and sexual homicide. Violent and aggressive behaviours are also covered in this module, although not as extensively as sexual behaviours. The learning and teaching strategies on this module contribute to the development of UWS graduate attributes as outlined in “I am UWS” see link: Graduate Attributes (uws.ac.uk) The aim of this module is to enable students to acquire a comprehensive knowledge of the theory and empirical evidence linked with sexual or violent offending and with personality disordered offenders. Meets SDG 3,4,10,11 and 16

<sup>1</sup> Where contact hours are synchronous/ live and take place fully on campus. Campus-based learning is focused on providing an interactive learning experience supported by a range of digitally-enabled asynchronous learning opportunities including learning materials, resources, and opportunities provided via the virtual learning environment. On-campus contact hours will be clearly articulated to students.

<sup>2</sup> The module includes a combination of synchronous/ live on-campus and online learning events. These will be supported by a range of digitally-enabled asynchronous learning opportunities including learning materials, resources, and opportunities provided via the virtual learning environment. On-campus and online contact hours will be clearly articulated to students.

<sup>3</sup> Where all learning is solely delivered by web-based or internet-based technologies and the participants can engage in all learning activities through these means. All required contact hours will be clearly articulated to students.

<sup>4</sup> Learning activities where the main location for the learning experience is in the workplace. All required contact hours, whether online or on campus, will be clearly articulated to students

Learning and Teaching
In line with current learning and teaching principles, a 20-credit module includes 200 learning hours, normally including a minimum of 36 contact hours and maximum of 48 contact hours. This is a 30 credit level 11 module. The current position is a that 10 hours per credits is the accepted working norm - thus a 30-credit module is 300hours of notional student study effort. This module is delivered by fully distance learning utilising AULA as the Virtual Learning Environment (VLE). Distance learning students: In this mode of delivery, students are learning fully online and are supported by the VLE. On-line students will receive core module resources; individual and group tutorial support and directed learning via the VLE system. This will be aided by asynchronous online discussion using AULA; virtual learning activities; tutorials (on-line or face to face via Microsoft TEAMS); directed wider reading including access to electronic library and e-books. All students will be expected to take responsibility for their own learning and work through the on-line module materials independently via AULA. This will assist in enhancing skills of communication, presentation, information abstraction and problem-solving, and critical analysis and reflection. Module content reflects societal diversity and a rights-based approach to practice. To promote accessibility, anticipatory adjustments have been made to teaching and learning strategies e.g. availability of electronic copies of lecture materials. Further reasonable adjustments can be made for students who have been assessed as requiring specific adjustments e.g., specialised equipment or software.

Attendance and Engagement Requirements
In line with the Student Attendance and Engagement Procedure , Students are academically engaged if they are regularly attending and participating in timetabled on-campus and online teaching sessions, asynchronous online learning activities, course-related learning resources, and complete assessments and submit these on time.

For the purposes of this module, academic engagement equates to the following:

The university is committed to providing a supportive learning environment that actively facilitates student success. In this module, there is a high degree of student-led flexibility. You are academically engaged if you are regularly engaged with scheduled live sessions on-campus and online, including engaging with online learning activities in your own time, course-related learning resources, and with timely completion and submission of assessments.

Whilst we understand that there may be times when conflicting priorities make participation challenging, for you to gain the most from this module it is recommended that you participate in all scheduled live classes and complete your self-directed learning activities in a timely manner.

It may be difficult to pass the assessment associated with this module if you are not regularly engaging with the module work and live classes. We may reach out to check how things are going and offer support if we observe that you have not been attending sessions or completing online activities.

Equality and Diversity

The University's Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Procedure can be accessed at the following link: UWS Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Code.

Module materials comply with University guidance on inclusive learning and teaching, and specialist assistive equipment, support provision and adjustment to assessment practice will be made in accordance with UWS policy and regulations. Where modules require practical and/or laboratory based learning or assessment required to meet accrediting body requirements the University will make reasonable adjustment such as adjustable height benches or assistance of a 'buddy' or helper.

(N.B. Every effort will be made by the University to accommodate any equality and diversity issues brought to the attention of the School)
