Summary of Module
Through supported cross sectoral and inter-professional learning, this module will build on students existing leadership knowledge and skills in order for them to critically examine the constructs and contexts of leadership within people-centred integrated care, recognising the principles of team work. Students will contextualise and reflect on the assets within their own workplace and teams in order to appreciate the skills within the workforce, as well as explore wider networks for new roles. Through this, they will examine leadership opportunities and challenges associated with transforming people-centred integrated care from a global, cross sectoral and inter professional perspective. During this module students will focus on building their resilience, managing conflict within the workplace and across sectors, and further develop skills in leading sustainable change. Through exploring the literature, the experiences of others and their own role and leadership development, students will critically review, consolidate and extend the leadership attributes necessary for the courageous leadership required to aid in transforming health and social care services. As a result, the module will support students to extend and enhance a number of characteristics which contribute to the UWS Graduate Attributes of 'UNIVERSAL'- critical thinking, analytical, emotionally-intelligent, culturally aware and collaborative 'WORK READY'- influential, motivated, potential leader and ambitious; and 'SUCCESSFUL' - autonomous, resilient, driven, daring and transformational. The learning from this module will allow students to demonstrate the following Mastersness Skills - Abstraction, Autonomy, Complexity and Professionalism.

Learning and Teaching
In line with current learning and teaching principles, a 20-credit module includes 200 learning hours, normally including a minimum of 36 contact hours and maximum of 48 contact hours. As an approved online module the delivery will equally focus on active and interactive learning, delivered asynchronously and supported by synchronous activities via the Virtual Learning Environment (VLE). Participants are encouraged to take control of their own learning and become self-motivated learners. This approach recognises the wealth of knowledge and richness of experience students will already have at their disposal. Students will be expected to work through the module materials via the VLE, independently. This will assist in enhancing skills of collaboration, communication, presentation, problem-solving and critical reflection of themselves.

Attendance and Engagement Requirements

In line with the Student Attendance and Engagement Procedure, Students are academically engaged if they are regularly attending and participating in timetabled on-campus and online teaching sessions, asynchronous online learning activities, course-related learning resources, and complete assessments and submit these on time.

For the purposes of this module, academic engagement equates to the following:

The university is committed to providing a supportive learning environment that actively facilitates student success. In this module, there is a high degree of student-led flexibility. You are academically engaged if you are regularly engaged with online learning activities in your own time, course-related learning resources, engaging with scheduled live sessions online, and with timely completion and submission of assessments.

Whilst we understand that there may be times when conflicting priorities make participation challenging, for you to gain the most from this module it is recommended that you participate and complete your self-directed learning activities in a timely manner.

It may be difficult to pass the assessment associated with this module if you are not regularly engaging with the module work. We may reach out to check how things are going and offer support if we observe that you have not been attending sessions or completing online activities.

Equality and Diversity

The University's Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Procedure can be accessed at the following link: UWS Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Code.

In line with current legislation (Equality Act, 2010) and the UWS Equality, Diversity, and Human Rights Code, our modules are accessible and inclusive, with reasonable adjustment for different needs where appropriate. Module materials comply with University guidance on inclusive learning and teaching, and specialist assistive equipment, support provision and adjustment to assessment practice will be made in accordance with UWS policy and regulations.

(N.B. Every effort will be made by the University to accommodate any equality and diversity issues brought to the attention of the School)
