Summary of Module

This module will introduce the techniques and protocols used to investigate crime scenes. This will cover a large range of material including physical evidence, biological evidence and trace evidence.

A series of laboratory sessions will be undertaken supporting the material covered, including evidence packaging, fingerprinting, presumptive and confirmatory testing for a range of biological materials, and forensic microscopy.

If you have an inquiring mind, this module will give you insights into the thought processes required by crime scene examiners and will also help you further develop your problem solving abilities and skills.

The module will be assessed by four class tests and the submission of a portfolio of written work.

This module will provide opportunities to develop the following UWS graduate attributes:

Critical Thinker, Collaborative, Problem Solver, Effective Communicator

Face-To-Face

Term used to describe the traditional classroom environment where the students and the lecturer meet synchronously in the same room for the whole provision.

Blended

A mode of delivery of a module or a programme that involves online and face-to-face delivery of learning, teaching and assessment activities, student support and feedback. A programme may be considered "blended" if it includes a combination of face-to-face, online and blended modules. If an online programme has any compulsory face-to-face and campus elements it must be described as blended with clearly articulated delivery information to manage student expectations

Fully Online

Instruction that is solely delivered by web-based or internet-based technologies. This term is used to describe the previously used terms distance learning and e learning.

HybridC

Online with mandatory face-to-face learning on Campus

HybridO

Online with optional face-to-face learning on Campus

Work-based Learning

Learning activities where the main location for the learning experience is in the workplace.
