Summary of Module

This is a continually assessed module.

This module is integral to the BSc Hons programme in Occupational Safety and Health. It provides students with a strong basis in the practical elements of risk management. The students will gain a background in the history and nature of risk management in the workplace and reasons for controlling risks. Risk, hazard and danger are defined and types of hazards explored (physical, biological, psychological, environmental, and chemical) and techniques for identification of hazards and evaluation of risk described and discussed. Risk assessment is a major part of health and safety, and this is covered in detail, including legalities, requirements and procedures for conducting risk assessments across a wide range of environments.

The control of risk follows risk assessment and a systems approach to this is taught with a focus on risk avoidance, reduction, transfer and retention. This then leads to elements of emergency planning, contingency planning and elements of disaster and recovery planning, and where appropriate enforcement.

The module will allow students will gain skills in report writing, working as part of a group and conducting risk assessments, all of which will help to develop further the range of 'I am UWS' Graduate Attributes.

Universal – development of critical thinking, ethically and research minded.

Work Ready – an effective problem solver, communicator and ambitious.

Successful – by being autonomous, resilient and driven.

Module Delivery Method

Face-To-Face	Blended	Fully Online	HybridC	HybridO	Work-based Learning

Face-To-Face

Term used to describe the traditional classroom environment where the students and the lecturer meet synchronously in the same room for the whole provision.

Blended

A mode of delivery of a module or a programme that involves online and face-to-face delivery of learning, teaching and assessment activities, student support and feedback. A programme may be considered "blended" if it includes a combination of face-to-face, online and blended modules. If an online programme has any compulsory face-to-face and campus elements it must be described as blended with clearly articulated delivery information to manage student expectations

Fully Online

Instruction that is solely delivered by web-based or internet-based technologies. This term is used to describe the previously used terms distance learning and e learning.

HybridC

Online with mandatory face-to-face learning on Campus

HybridO

Online with optional face-to-face learning on Campus

Work-based Learning

Learning activities where the main location for the learning experience is in the workplace.

Campus(es) for Module Delivery

The module will normally be offered on the following campuses / or by Distance/Online Learning: (Provided viable student numbers permit)

Paisley:	Ayr:	Dumfries:	Lanarkshire:	London:	Distance/Online Learning:	Other:

Assessment: (also refer to Assessment Outcomes Grids below)

Two assignments worth 80% of the final mark.
One assignment will look at how hazard identification is important in the management of risk
One assignment will look at how management systems and permit to work can aid in the control of contractors.

One presentation worth 20% of the final mark.
This presentation will be used to show their peers the knowledge and understanding they have gained in this module

(N.B. (i) Assessment Outcomes Grids for the module (one for each component) can be found below which clearly demonstrate how the learning outcomes of the module will be assessed.

(ii) An indicative schedule listing approximate times within the academic calendar when assessment is likely to feature will be provided within the Student Handbook.)

Note(s):

1. More than one assessment method can be used to assess individual learning outcomes.
2. Schools are responsible for determining student contact hours. Please refer to University Policy on contact hours (extract contained within section 10 of the Module Descriptor guidance note).
This will normally be variable across Schools, dependent on Programmes &/or Professional requirements.

Equality and Diversity

In line with current legislation (Equality Act, 2010) and the UWS Equality, Diversity, and Human Rights Code, our modules are accessible and inclusive, with reasonable adjustment for different needs where appropriate. Module materials comply with University guidance on inclusive learning and teaching, and specialist assistive equipment, support provision and adjustment to assessment practice will be made in accordance with UWS policy and regulations. Where modules require practical and/or laboratory based learning or assessment required to meet accrediting body requirements the University will make reasonable adjustment such as adjustable height benches or assistance of a 'buddy' or helper. Please refer to the UWS Equality and Diversity Policy at the following link: UWS Equality and Diversity Policy

UWS Equality and Diversity Policy

(N.B. Every effort will be made by the University to accommodate any equality and diversity issues brought to the attention of the School)
