Summary of Module

This is a blended learning module and is a Year 3 module within the BA (Hons) Integrated Health and Social Care programme

The purpose of this module is to provide the student with a broad knowledge and understanding of current contemporary issues within health and social care both nationally and internationally, recognising how these may change depending on the current situation. Some key issues that will be addressed include long term- conditions, promoting wellbeing, technology, co-production and self-directed support; globalisation and sustainability in health and social care and the sectors response to global health concerns. The module explores The UN (2015) Sustainable development goal 3: Ensure healthy lives and promote well-being for all ages.

This module aims to encourage critical appraisal of existing evidence including strategies and policies for contemporary health and social care provision, from both a national and international perspective.

This module will allow students to explore, discuss and debate contemporary subject areas taking an integrated approach to the included topics and consider the implications of this provision across the sector while also informing their own practices.

As a result, the module will support students to develop a number of characteristics which contribute to the UWS Graduate Attributes of 'UNIVERSAL'-critical thinking, analytical, inquiring, culturally aware, emotionally intelligent, ethically-minded, collaborative,, research minded and socially responsible; 'WORK-READY'- knowledgeable, digitally literate, effective communicator, motivated, potential leader; AND 'SUCCESSFUL'- autonomous, incisive, creative, resilient and daring.

Learning and Teaching

In line with current learning and teaching principles, a 20-credit module includes 200 learning hours, normally including a minimum of 36 contact hours and maximum of 48 contact hours.

On-campus learning events focus on providing active and interactive learning, supported by readings, resources and other activities for students to prepare (pre-learning event) and consolidate learning (post-learning event)

Asynchronous activities will be provided and designed as activities to support on campus learning events. These should be associated with learning event preparation or post learning event consolidation. Such activities will not be included within module contact time.

A 20-credit module constitutes 200 hours of total learning and assessment time for the student, or c.13 hours per week over a 15-week term.

Attendance and Engagement Requirements

In line with the Student Attendance and Engagement Procedure, Students are academically engaged if they are regularly attending and participating in timetabled oncampus and online teaching sessions, asynchronous online learning activities, course-related learning resources, and complete assessments and submit these on time.

For the purposes of this module, academic engagement equates to the following:

You are expected to attend all timetabled sessions. We understand that due to illness or unforeseen circumstances you may miss the occasional session and you should inform the lecturer taking the session. If your attendance falls below 80% and you have not contacted us we will contact you to invite you to meet and discuss any support required and agree an action plan to support catching up material you have missed.

All students are expected to engage with material on AULA sites such as pre and post class support material, formative assessment and summative assessment.

Equality and Diversity

The University's Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Procedure can be accessed at the following link: UWS Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Code.

In line with current legislation (Equality Act, 2010) and the UWS Equality, Diversity, and Human Rights Code, our modules are accessible and inclusive, with reasonable adjustment for different needs where appropriate. Module materials comply with University guidance on inclusive learning and teaching, and specialist assistive equipment, support provision and adjustment to assessment practice will be made in accordance with UWS policy and regulations.

(N.B. Every effort will be made by the University to accommodate any equality and diversity issues brought to the attention of the School)
