Summary of Module
The Scottish Government (2012) is promoting a supportive and integrated way of working with all families. This means working across boundaries and putting families at the heart of decision making. This module seeks to explore the role and function of the practitioner working with families in the health, social and education settings, utilising the concept of the family as the key focus of the care delivery. The student will appraise the role of the family within the decision making process, through exploring aspects of applied theoretical frameworks. Exploration of the family role within contemporary society and the policy drivers which guide and inform practice will also reviewed. A range of family assessment strategies will be explored which will also enhance practitioners’ skills of working with families’ (Scottish Government, 2010). Throughout the module the role of the practitioner working with families will be explored focusing on the family, inter-agency working and working in partnership with the families. This module will allow students through group working to explore and discuss in detail the role families play in contemporary society considering the implications of this provision across the sector along with informing their own practices. As a result, the module will support students to develop a number of characteristics which contribute to the UWS Graduate Attributes of 'UNIVERSAL'-critical thinking, analytical, inquiring, culturally aware, emotionally intelligent, ethically-minded, collaborative, research minded and socially responsible; 'WORK-READY'knowledgeable, digitally literate, effective communicator, motivated, potential leader; AND 'SUCCESSFUL'autonomous, incisive, creative and resilient.

(N.B. Although reading lists should include current publications, students are advised (particularly for material marked with an asterisk*) to wait until the start of session for confirmation of the most up-to-date material)

Attendance and Engagement Requirements

In line with the Student Attendance and Engagement Procedure, Students are academically engaged if they are regularly attending and participating in timetabled on-campus and online teaching sessions, asynchronous online learning activities, course-related learning resources, and complete assessments and submit these on time.

For the purposes of this module, academic engagement equates to the following:

The university is committed to providing a supportive learning environment that actively facilitates student success. In this module, there is a high degree of student-led flexibility. You are academically engaged if you are regularly engaged with scheduled live sessions on campus and online, including engaging with online learning activities in your own time, course-related learning resources, and with timely completion and submission of assessments.

Equality and Diversity

The University's Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Procedure can be accessed at the following link: UWS Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Code.

In line with current legislation (Equality Act, 2010) and the UWS Equality, Diversity, and Human Rights Code, our modules are accessible and inclusive, with reasonable adjustment for different needs where appropriate. Module materials comply with University guidance on inclusive learning and teaching, and specialist assistive equipment, support provision and adjustment to assessment practice will be made in accordance with UWS policy and regulations. Where modules require practical and/or laboratory based learning or assessment required to meet accrediting body requirements the University will make reasonable adjustment such as adjustable height benches or assistance of a 'buddy' or helper.

(N.B. Every effort will be made by the University to accommodate any equality and diversity issues brought to the attention of the School)
