Summary of Module
The module aims to help the health and social care professional to develop their skills of teaching in professional practice. The different international theoretical approaches which underpin effective teaching skills and learner needs are discussed. The qualities which positively influence good practice teaching are considered whilst learning styles and theories are explored. Aims, educational objectives and learning outcomes are all defined. Models of programme design, educational resources and the sequencing of content are discussed. A variety of teaching methods and methods of assessing learning are examined. The rationale for evaluating teaching is presented alongside the methods for gaining feedback. The module will provide the participant with the knowledge and skills required to support the role of teaching in his/her professional practice. The approach to learning within this module is student-centred which supports and enables the participant to take responsibility for their own learning and guides each learner towards building on their previous and concurrent experience. This module is suitable for nursing, health and social care students from anywhere in the world as it allows the application of theory to practice regardless of geography or care setting. This module supports the following UWS Graduate Attributes: Universal – Critical Thinker, Culturally aware and Research-Minded Work ready – Knowledgeable, Motivated and Potential leader Successful – Autonomous, Resilient and Driven

L4
L5

Employability Skills and Personal Development Planning (PDP) Skills
SCQF Headings	During completion of this module, there will be an opportunity to achieve core skills in:
Knowledge and Understanding (K and U)	SCQF 10 Demonstration of a critical understanding of the theories of learning and their application to practice. Critical understanding the role of teaching in practice. Demonstrate a critical understanding the importance of identifying the learning needs of learners.

¹ Where contact hours are synchronous/ live and take place fully on campus. Campus-based learning is focused on providing an interactive learning experience supported by a range of digitally-enabled asynchronous learning opportunities including learning materials, resources, and opportunities provided via the virtual learning environment. On-campus contact hours will be clearly articulated to students.

² The module includes a combination of synchronous/ live on-campus and online learning events. These will be supported by a range of digitally-enabled asynchronous learning opportunities including learning materials, resources, and opportunities provided via the virtual learning environment. On-campus and online contact hours will be clearly articulated to students.

³ Where all learning is solely delivered by web-based or internet-based technologies and the participants can engage in all learning activities through these means. All required contact hours will be clearly articulated to students.

⁴ Learning activities where the main location for the learning experience is in the workplace. All required contact hours, whether online or on campus, will be clearly articulated to students

	Critical understanding teaching and learning strategies which promote effective learning.
Practice: Applied Knowledge and Understanding	SCQF 10 Use a range of skills in the identifying learning needs within a particular area of practice. Developing a learning session for a topic / skill / procedure which demonstrates specialist, advanced or at the forefront of a subject/ discipline. Implementing appropriate teaching skills to enable learning. Providing a supportive, educative and protective role towards the learner
Generic Cognitive skills	SCQF 10 Demonstrate the ability to distinguish between appropriate and inappropriate teaching styles. Offer professional level insights in facilitating the learner to a variety of relevant learning resources. Demonstrates the ability to enable learners to seek out new information and understanding. Critically evaluates information to inform a relevant and effective teaching programme.
Communication, ICT and Numeracy Skills	SCQF 10 Demonstrates the ability to enable the learner to articulate their understanding of the learning session. Demonstrates a wide range of routine and some advanced skills in communicating effectively and appropriately in speech and presentation. Using a range of network sources to support and enhance information. Interpreting the results of assessment tools accurately.
Autonomy, Accountability and Working with Others	SCQF 10 Exercise autonomy and initiative in professional teaching activities whilst liaising with appropriate subject experts. Engaging effectively with the learner(s) as a good role model for teaching. Demonstrate a collaborative approach towards teaching and learning.

Attendance and Engagement Requirements

In line with the Student Attendance and Engagement Procedure, Students are academically engaged if they are regularly attending and participating in timetabled on-campus and online teaching sessions, asynchronous online learning activities, course-related learning resources, and complete assessments and submit these on time.

For the purposes of this module, academic engagement equates to the following:

Students are expected to attend all timetabled classes and scheduled meetings with academic staff.

Equality and Diversity

The University's Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Procedure can be accessed at the following link: UWS Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Code.

In line with current legislation (Equality Act, 2010) and the UWS Equality, Diversity, and Human Rights Code, our modules are accessible and inclusive, with reasonable adjustment for different needs where appropriate. Module materials comply with University guidance on inclusive learning and teaching, and specialist assistive equipment, support provision and adjustment to assessment practice will be made in accordance with UWS policy and regulations. Where modules require practical and/or laboratory based learning or assessment required to meet accrediting body requirements the University will make reasonable adjustment such as adjustable height benches or assistance of a 'buddy' or helper.

Please refer to the UWS Equality and Diversity Policy

(N.B. Every effort will be made by the University to accommodate any equality and diversity issues brought to the attention of the School)
