Summary of Module
Technology is being used widely to ensure individuals can remain at home for longer and when necessary receive safe, efficient and effective health care. These technological, medical and societal changes have transformed how health and care services are delivered. Multiple strategic documents acknowledge this transformation in care delivery and signal that the health and social care workforce needs to be ready to work with people using technology in a variety of contexts, for example: home monitoring, virtual wards, Attend Anywhere/near me. This module will be attractive to all health and care professionals working and supporting people using digital technologies. The module will facilitate the development of the student's knowledge and skills in undertaking structured, safe, effective, person centred/led assessment from a distance by focusing on the core skills of communication and decision making. Students will practise and develop these skills during the module and utilise reflective and group discussions to consolidate their learning. The techniques illustrated and practised in the module will enable students to further enhance and develop their graduate attributes, in particular: critical thinking, collaboration, reflection, knowledge and effective communication.

Learning Outcomes
L1	Identify and evaluate models and frameworks for assessment at a distance.
L2	Critically appraise the communication skills required to provide an effective, safe and person-centred assessment from a distance
L3	Critically analyse theories, models and tools, which facilitate decision making from a distance.
L4	Demonstrate the application of complex knowledge and skills required to undertake an assessment from a distance.
L5

Employability Skills and Personal Development Planning (PDP) Skills
SCQF Headings	During completion of this module, there will be an opportunity to achieve core skills in:
Knowledge and Understanding (K and U)	SCQF 10 Demonstrate a broad and integrated knowledge of assessing people from a distance and where this may be applicable to clinical practice. A critical understanding of theories and principles of decision making and diagnostic error and communication. Critically appraise models and frameworks of consultation and communication.
Practice: Applied Knowledge and Understanding	SCQF 10

<sup>1</sup> Where contact hours are synchronous/ live and take place fully on campus. Campus-based learning is focused on providing an interactive learning experience supported by a range of digitally-enabled asynchronous learning opportunities including learning materials, resources, and opportunities provided via the virtual learning environment. On-campus contact hours will be clearly articulated to students.

<sup>2</sup> The module includes a combination of synchronous/ live on-campus and online learning events. These will be supported by a range of digitally-enabled asynchronous learning opportunities including learning materials, resources, and opportunities provided via the virtual learning environment. On-campus and online contact hours will be clearly articulated to students.

<sup>3</sup> Where all learning is solely delivered by web-based or internet-based technologies and the participants can engage in all learning activities through these means. All required contact hours will be clearly articulated to students.

<sup>4</sup> Learning activities where the main location for the learning experience is in the workplace. All required contact hours, whether online or on campus, will be clearly articulated to students

	Demonstration of a critical understanding of the application of the principal theories and concepts relating to the process of safe, effective and person-centred assessment from a distance in practice. Utilise simulation and real situations to reflect on, practice and enhance therapeutic and communication skills. Undertake critical reflection, analysis, evaluation and synthesis of contemporary theories and frameworks in assessment both face to face and from a distance
Generic Cognitive skills	SCQF 10 Critically review and consolidate knowledge and skills in clinical assessment from a distance. Provide verbal and written effective, constructive reflections and feedback to colleagues. Take responsibility for the evaluation of the work of self and others in defined areas of work and provide constructive feedback to colleagues.

(N.B. Although reading lists should include current publications, students are advised (particularly for material marked with an asterisk*) to wait until the start of session for confirmation of the most up-to-date material)

Attendance and Engagement Requirements

In line with the Student Attendance and Engagement Procedure, Students are academically engaged if they are regularly attending and participating in timetabled on-campus and online teaching sessions, asynchronous online learning activities, course-related learning resources, and complete assessments and submit these on time.

For the purposes of this module, academic engagement equates to the following:

100% attendance and engagement with the course content and virtual learning environment

Equality and Diversity

The University's Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Procedure can be accessed at the following link: UWS Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Code.

In line with current legislation (Equality Act, 2010) and the UWS Equality, Diversity, and Human Rights Code, our modules are accessible and inclusive, with reasonable adjustment for different needs where appropriate.

Module materials comply with University guidance on inclusive learning and teaching, and specialist assistive equipment, support provision and adjustment to assessment practice will be made in accordance with UWS policy and regulations.

Where modules require practical and/or laboratory based learning or assessment required to meet accrediting body requirements the University will make reasonable adjustment such as adjustable height benches or assistance of a 'buddy' or helper. Please refer to the UWS Equality and Diversity Policy on the UWS web pages.

(N.B. Every effort will be made by the University to accommodate any equality and diversity issues brought to the attention of the School)

Assessment (also refer to Assessment Outcomes Grids below)*Assessment 1

The student will undertake a 3,500 word case study. The student will critically reflect on an assessment from a distance. They will critically analyse and evaluate the practical application of current theory and research in decision-making, communication and the use of an appropriate consultation structure (100%).

Assessment 2*Assessment 3

(N.B. (i) Assessment Outcomes Grids for the module (one for each component) can be found below which clearly demonstrate how the learning outcomes of the module will be assessed.

(ii) An indicative schedule listing approximate times within the academic calendar when assessment is likely to feature will be provided within the Student Module Handbook.)
