Summary of Module

This module will introduce students to sport and the outdoors exploring key theoretical concepts, perspectives and practices including the green and blue gym. Students will build on related topics gained from previous modules e.g., public, private and voluntary sectors; social-cultural impacts of sport; sport policy; sport education; conservation and sustainability of the environment. A variety of international and national perspectives will be explored in relation to the key concept of outdoor education. Students will also identify and analyse economic and political factors which can influence the delivery of outdoor sport and will explore how the outdoors can positively and negatively affect individuals mentally, physically, spiritually and socially.

This module will allow student to develop key Graduate Attributes', specifically:

Universal:

• Inquiring

• Culturally Aware

• Collaborative

Work-Ready:

• Problem-solver

• Effective Communicator

• Motivated

Successful:

• Innovative

• Creative

• Daring

Indicative Resources
The following materials form essential underpinning for the module content and ultimately for the learning outcomes:
Ewart A. & Sibthorp J. (2014) Outdoor Adventure Education, Foundations, Theory and Research Leeds: Human Kinetics.

Hinch T. & Higham J. (2011) Sport Tourism Development 2nd Ed, Butterworth-Heinemann: Oxford.

Palmer C. (2013) Global Sports Policy, Sage Publications: London.

(N.B. Although reading lists should include current publications, students are advised (particularly for material marked with an asterisk*) to wait until the start of session for confirmation of the most up-to-date material)

Attendance and Engagement Requirements

In line with the Student Attendance and Engagement Procedure, Students are academically engaged if they are regularly attending and participating in timetabled on-campus and online teaching sessions, asynchronous online learning activities, course-related learning resources, and complete assessments and submit these on time.

For the purposes of this module, academic engagement equates to the following:

The university is committed to providing a supportive learning environment that actively facilitates student success. In this module, there is a high degree of student-led flexibility. You are academically engaged if you are regularly engaged with scheduled live sessions on-campus and online, including engaging with online learning activities in your own time, course-related learning resources, and with timely completion and submission of assessments.

Whilst we understand that there may be times when conflicting priorities make participation challenging, for you to gain the most from this module it is recommended that you participate in all scheduled live classes and complete your self-directed learning activities in a timely manner.

It may be difficult to pass the assessment associated with this module if you are not regularly engaging with the module work and live classes. We may reach out to check how things are going and offer support if we observe that you have not been attending sessions or completing online activities
