Summary of Module
Delivery of this L10 module will combine service operations management theory with industry best practice in examining key areas that will contribute to enhancing student's employability within the sport environment. "The number of people employed in small businesses or self-employed has grown. Public services and not-for-profit companies are now among the largest employers in the UK" (UK DES, 2010). Students will study key areas of the four management functions: planning, organising, leading, and controlling; this will be further broken down into a range of issues in the contexts of sport and health-fitness provision: the sport industry; supervision and management within the sport environment. Planning – problem solving and decision making, strategic (objective setting and business strategy) and operational planning/project management. Organising – organisational design (job design), managing change and quality. Leading – team development (structure/process and leadership styles), communication, and motivational theory in the workplace. Controlling – control strategy and systems within fitness and sport facilities, events marketing. This module will also examine the components required to set up a SBE (small business enterprise) via guest speakers who have experience in the setup of a sport related business. Students will be required to engage with the concepts and theories indicated as they will be required to produce a personal business plan including aspects such as business grant application, lottery funding for sport business, local authority and governing bodies.

Attendance and Engagement Requirements

In line with the Student Attendance and Engagement Procedure, Students are academically engaged if they are regularly attending and participating in timetabled on-campus and online teaching sessions, asynchronous online learning activities, course-related learning resources, and complete assessments and submit these on time.

For the purposes of this module, academic engagement equates to the following:

The university is committed to providing a supportive learning environment that actively facilitates student success. In this module, there is a high degree of student-led flexibility. You are academically engaged if you are regularly engaged with scheduled live sessions on-campus and online, including engaging with online learning activities in your own time, course-related learning resources, and with timely completion and submission of assessments.

Whilst we understand that there may be times when conflicting priorities make participation challenging, for you to gain the most from this module it is recommended that you participate in all scheduled live classes and complete your self-directed learning activities in a timely manner.

It may be difficult to pass the assessment associated with this module if you are not regularly engaging with the module work and live classes. We may reach out to check how things are going and offer support if we observe that you have not been attending sessions or completing online activities.

Equality and Diversity

The University's Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Procedure can be accessed at the following link: UWS Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Code.

In line with current legislation (Equality Act, 2010) and the UWS Equality, Diversity, and Human Rights Code, our modules are accessible and inclusive, with reasonable adjustment for different needs where appropriate. Module materials comply with University guidance on inclusive learning and teaching, and specialist assistive equipment, support provision and adjustment to assessment practice will be made in accordance with UWS policy and regulations. Where modules require practical learning or assessment, alternative formats and/or roles will be provided for students with physical disabilities which impact participation.

(N.B. Every effort will be made by the University to accommodate any equality and diversity issues brought to the attention of the School)
