Title	The Female Athlete
Session	2024/25	Status	Published
Code	SPOR10058	SCQF Level	10
Credit Points	10	ECTS (European Credit Transfer Scheme)	5
School	Health and Life Sciences
Module Co-ordinator	L Forrest

Summary of Module

This module advances knowledge developed in previous physiological, sports conditioning and sociology of sport modules. Students will predominantly explore key physiological, but also sociological, factors that are unique to female athletes (e.g. the menstrual cycle, pelvic health, breast support, pregnancy and gender inequalities) and critically evaluate the impact these factors can have on performing in sport. The module will equip students with the theoretical knowledge and applied understanding that are required to support female athletes at different stages of their lifespan.

This module will assist students to develop key 'I am UWS Graduate Attributes' and will ensure that those who complete this module successfully will be:

Universal:

- Critical Thinker
- Emotionally Intelligent
- Collaborative

Work Ready:

- Problem -solver
- Influential
- Potential Leader

Successful:

- Innovative
- Resilient
- Transformational

L5

Employability Skills and Personal Development Planning (PDP) Skills
SCQF Headings	During completion of this module, there will be an opportunity to achieve core skills in:
Knowledge and Understanding (K and U)	SCQF 10 Demonstrating a comprehensive knowledge of the physiological and sociological aspects which can affect female athletes. Demonstrating critical understanding of the impact that various factors can have on sporting performance.
Practice: Applied Knowledge and Understanding	SCQF 10 Translating the research into practical user-friendly recommendations for athletes and coaches.
Generic Cognitive skills	SCQF 10 Critically identifying, defining, conceptualising and analysing complex problems and issues.

¹ Where contact hours are synchronous/ live and take place fully on campus. Campus-based learning is focused on providing an interactive learning experience supported by a range of digitally-enabled asynchronous learning opportunities including learning materials, resources, and opportunities provided via the virtual learning environment. On-campus contact hours will be clearly articulated to students.

² The module includes a combination of synchronous/ live on-campus and online learning events. These will be supported by a range of digitally-enabled asynchronous learning opportunities including learning materials, resources, and opportunities provided via the virtual learning environment. On-campus and online contact hours will be clearly articulated to students.

³ Where all learning is solely delivered by web-based or internet-based technologies and the participants can engage in all learning activities through these means. All required contact hours will be clearly articulated to students.

⁴ Learning activities where the main location for the learning experience is in the workplace. All required contact hours, whether online or on campus, will be clearly articulated to students

Communication, ICT and Numeracy Skills	SCQF 10 Presenting or conveying, formally and informally, information about contemporary issues in female athlete literature. Using a range of ICT applications to support and enhance work at this level and adjust features to suit purpose. Interpreting, using and evaluating a wide range of numerical and graphical data to set and achieve goals/targets.
Autonomy, Accountability and Working with Others	SCQF 10 Exercising autonomy and initiative in individual and collaborative group tasks.

Learning and Teaching
In line with current learning and teaching principles, a 20-credit module includes 200 learning hours, normally including a minimum of 36 contact hours and maximum of 48 contact hours. This module will adopt a hybrid learning and teaching approach. Core theoretical content will be predominantly delivered through a series of asynchronous online materials, including recorded lectures. Synchronous face-to-face sessions (both on campus and online) will be interactive learning sessions to allow the students to apply theories and concepts, complete problem-based learning activities, and receive peer and tutor interaction and feedback.
Learning Activities	Student Learning Hours
During completion of this module, the learning activities undertaken to achieve the module learning outcomes are stated below:	(Note: Learning hours include both contact hours and hours spent on other learning activities)
Tutorial / Synchronous Support Activity	9
Asynchronous Class Activity	9
Independent Study	82

Indicative Resources
The following materials form essential underpinning for the module content and ultimately for the learning outcomes: Recommended texts: Constantini, N. and Hackney, A.C. (2013) Endocrinology of physical activity and sport 2nd edn. New York: Humana Press

Coakley, J. & Pike, E. (2014) Sports in Society: Issues and Controversies. London: McGraw-Hill.

(N.B. Although reading lists should include current publications, students are advised (particularly for material marked with an asterisk*) to wait until the start of session for confirmation of the most up-to-date material)

Attendance and Engagement Requirements

In line with the Student Attendance and Engagement Procedure, Students are academically engaged if they are regularly attending and participating in timetabled on-campus and online teaching sessions, asynchronous online learning activities, course-related learning resources, and complete assessments and submit these on time.

For the purposes of this module, academic engagement equates to the following:

In line with the Academic Engagement Procedure, Students are defined as academically engaged if they are regularly engaged with timetabled teaching sessions, course-related learning resources including those on the VLE, and complete assessments and submit these on time.

Equality and Diversity

The University's Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Procedure can be accessed at the following link: UWS Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Code.

In line with current legislation (Equality Act, 2010) and the UWS Equality, Diversity, and Human Rights Code, our modules are accessible and inclusive, with reasonable adjustment for different needs where appropriate. Module materials comply with University guidance on inclusive learning and teaching, and specialist assistive equipment, support provision and adjustment to assessment practice will be made in accordance with UWS policy and regulations. Where modules require practical learning or assessment, alternative formats and/or roles will be provided for students with physical disabilities which impact participation.

(N.B. Every effort will be made by the University to accommodate any equality and diversity issues brought to the attention of the School)
